Court Rules Against Unconstitutional Charges by ACLU

Ulster County Board of Elections did not act unconstitutionally or unreasonably in denying students at State University at New Paltz to register to vote locally, Supreme Court Justice George S. Cobb ruled Tuesday.

Justice Cobb did however allow six of 16 students, testifying in court that New Paltz was "home," to register and vote in that suburban Ulster campus town.

All six students, whom Judge Cobb allowed to register, live off campus. However some others who live off campus were denied permission to register in New Paltz. Each case was judged on its own merits and the circumstances surrounding the student's residence in New Paltz.

Assistant County Attorney John J. Lynch did not dispute the fact that they had been refused registration as students and had instead been offered the use of absentee ballots in order that they may register and vote.

But, Lynch repeatedly, through questioning and with the introduction of student records as evidence, tried to prove that the students used their parents' addresses at times, received support from their parents and that they did not, in fact, reside in New Paltz 10 months of the year or more as sworn to in many student affidavits.

Counsel for the students, Arthur Eisenberg of the Civil Liberties Union, repeatedly questioned students taking the stand concerning the fact that they "lived" in New Paltz, that they held driver licenses with New Paltz addresses, that he had New Paltz bank accounts and spent the majority of their time and money in New Paltz.

Lynch on the other hand attempted to point out that the changes of addresses on driver licenses from the students' former addresses (their parents) were made immediately before they attempted to first register to vote in New Paltz during special registration in September and October.

He introduced college records, signed by students, which indicated that they were using their parents' addresses as "home." And, he attempted to prove that the students, on the whole, were receiving their main financial support from their parents or families.

Eisenberg, assisted by Karen Peters of New Paltz, also attempted to prove the students did not intend to return to their parents' homes after graduation. "Do you consider your parents' home to be your home?" he asked Richard A. Benson, 21, who lists his address as Hasbrouck Apartments in New Paltz and whose parents reside in Flushing in Queens, Long Island. "No," replied Benson, who indicated he intended to open a bagel shop on Main Street in New Paltz after graduation.

Benson was questioned extensively by Lynch and Justice Cobb who asked if Benson changed his address on his driver's license the day before he tried to register to vote and if he resided with his parents during summer vacation during his third year of college? Benson relied affirmatively to both questions.

Cheryl Mayrsohn, 18, another student, testified that she has been living in New Paltz since Aug. 31, 1973, that she only goes "home" during school vacations and that she does not intend to return to the home of her parents.

Miss Mayrsohn said she changed her address on her driver's license in order to register. She and some other students told the court that they did so as the result of registration instructions for students in a leaflet made available to them in New Paltz. Justice Cobb asked Benson if he knew who promulgated the leaflet and he replied, "no."

In early October the Committee to Register Students at New Paltz tried to get students attending SUNY-New Paltz to register to vote there in an effort at "informing students of their potential power in electing New Paltz officials and thereby shaping New Paltz town policies."

Judge Cobb ruled in favor of Benson's registering in New Paltz and against Miss Mayrsohn.

Election Board Challenges Many Paltz Students

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ

Many of the students who thought they were home free after they were allowed to register to vote in New Paltz on the Oct. 11 and 13 local registrations days have found their registration challenged by the Board of Elections, and were called before the Board of Elections Tuesday for hearings on their registration.

The challenged registrants were notified by letter to appear before the elections board Tuesday from 9 to 10 a.m. There were some complaints about the time, and the Board of Elections has set the additional hours of 7 to 9:30 tonight to hear challenged registrants who could not make the Tuesday time.

According to Ulster County Elections Commissioners Edwin L. Callahan and John J. Hogan, about 50 challenges were heard Tuesday. They said Board of Elections decisions had run "about 50-50" on leaving the challenged registrants on the rolls or striking them from them.

Alan Sussman, co-chairman of the Committee to Register Students (CRS) said the elections board had been "over-zealous" in its challenges, and charged that the board in its efforts to see that no students were registered had caught a number of non-students in its net.

Callahan said that about 85 or 90 challenges had been sent out to New Paltz registrants, and that they had not all been intended for students. He said many of the challenges dealt with questions over address or information lacking on voter registration cards.

The CRS had mounted a campaign to register students from the State University College at New Paltz to vote in New Paltz, claiming that recent court decisions had held that students who had a "community of interest" with New Paltz could vote there.

The Ulster County Board of Elections has maintained that Section 151 of the Election Law, which says a person can neither gain nor lose a residence by going to an educational institution, binds the elections board, and students who cannot firmly establish a residence in New Paltz have to register to vote where they came from.

Though the elections commissioners say the challenges were not sent out just because registrants happened to be students, those New Paltz residents with challenge hearings Tuesday were skeptical.

Ron Fields, a non-student who was challenged, was allowed to remain on the voter rolls. "They thought I was a student, I think," he said after he came out of his hearing, but he was allowed to remain on the voter rolls after he explained that he was not a student and worked full-time.

Alan Feuer was also allowed to register, he is taking one course at the college, but holds a full-time job. He said he was challenged because he had listed a post office box as his address, and the Board of Elections wanted to make sure he really lived in New Paltz.

Washington Leads Peace Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will visit Cairo and other Mideast capitals next week as the United States tries to promote peace negotiations between Israel and its Arab foes, officials said.

The trip, to be formally announced today, is considered a prelude to talks between Israel and the Arab states late this year or in early 1974.

Kissinger will stop in Jidda and Amman to confer with Saudi Arabian and Jordanian leaders, and possibly also in Rabat, Morocco. Then, after an appointment with Nixon at the stop in Pakistan, he will fly to White House on Thursday.

She asked to see the President amid indications that the United States was pressing Israel to yield Egyptian territory on the west bank of the Suez Canal seized between two U.N. cease-fire calls last week.

The fact that Kissinger's trip to Cairo had already been planned was taken as evidence that Washington has already decided on at least the broad outline of its diplomatic course. Both the United States and the Soviet Union have pledged to use their "good offices" to expedite negotiations between Israel and her Arab neighbors. Of the two super powers, Washington clearly is playing the dominant role, while keeping Moscow informed principally through Dobrynin. All attempts to foster negotiations since Israel was established 25 years ago have foundered even before an agenda could be prepared. The object of the current exploratory talks is to bring the two sides together under one roof, bargaining through a U.S. intermediary or directly across the table from each other. Geneva is a potential site.

Meanwhile, George Saddik, the Syrian minister of information, vowed Tuesday that his country would not bargain with Israel.

Mideast problems "can only be solved through complete Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territories and the recognition of Palestinian rights," he said in Damascus.

Fahmy is understood to have told Kissinger, however, that Egypt, Syria and other Arab states are prepared to accept Israel's sovereignty as a hard fact of life.

Golda Meir is expected to be carrying both gratitude and gripes when she meets President Nixon on Thursday in Washington.

The premier is sure to thank the President for the massive American shipments of arms. But she is also likely to complain about U.S. pressures on Israel that have put her government on the spot at home and could cost her Labor party votes in the elections two months away.

Sadat Rattles Saber Again, Asks Israeli Withdrawal

By United Press International
Egyptian President Anwar Sadat threatened today to resume the war if the Israelis do not return to the Oct. 22 cease-fire lines, but he said he would restrain his army pending outcome of intense diplomatic negotiations in Washington.

His Cairo statement coincided with the departure for Washington of Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir with the reported intention of pressing President Nixon not to bow to Soviet and Egyptian demands for such a pullback, which would free the trapped 20,000-man Egyptian 3rd Army.

Nixon and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger were conferring with acting Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin. Nixon will meet with Mrs. Meir on Thursday and Kissinger will visit Cairo next Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the heart of the current impasse is Israel's demand for the immediate release of captured prisoners of war, an issue so emotionally charged in Israel that diplomatic sources do not return to the Oct. 22 cease-fire lines, but he said he would restrain his army pending outcome of intense diplomatic negotiations in Washington.

There also was the fear in Tel Aviv that Israel's freeing of the trapped 3rd army would enable Cairo to turn a military defeat into a political victory and increase Arab demands for a return to the boundaries that existed before the 1967 Six Day War.

Sadat told a Cairo news conference the Egyptian army is ready to storm through and "finish off the Israelis" on the west bank of the Suez Canal if they do not return to the Oct. 22 positions. It was his first public statement since Oct. 16 when he announced that his condition for a cease-fire was the immediate withdrawal of the Israelis to the borders that existed before the June 1967 war.

Referring to the Israeli positions on the west bank of the Suez Canal, Sadat said: "This is a pocket which is doomed. This is well-known in military circles... but we want peace."

"I am restraining my military men with great difficulty because they want to liquidate this pocket and consider it an easy job. The Israelis themselves know this. They have told some people their position is fragile."

"But I do not want to break the cease-fire."

Sadat said this situation was the reason for Fahmy's visit to Washington.

The Egyptians say that in the two days following the Oct. 22 cease-fire Israeli tanks thrust southward along the canal to Suez City, cutting off some 20,000 troops of the Egyptian 3rd Army on the east bank of the canal from their supplies.

"The 3rd Army is not all on the east bank, only part of it is on the east bank," Sadat said.

"The greater part stands behind the Israeli lines on the west bank and I can storm my way through and finish off the Israelis. But we are abiding by the cease-fire."

Goblins Gather for Trick or Treat

Tonight is the night of ghost and goblin doings. In the spirit of Halloween, first graders of John F. Kennedy School in Kingston costumed up for the occasion with Stanley Klonowski as a ghost; Michael DeCicco as a bat; Shonda Wilkerson as a witch; Mary Whispell, farmer and Connie Knox as Donald Duck. As children of the area make their trick or treat rounds tonight they are reminded that curfew hours are in force in many towns. In Kingston, Mayor Francis R. Koenig has declared an 8 p.m. Halloween curfew for all persons under 18 years of age. (Freeman photo by Haines)

VOLUNTEERS IN ACTION — Miss Helen Salzmann, left, and Mrs. Alex Plitkins, center, two of the many volunteers working at the Children's Home of Kingston, assist Mrs. Neil N. Whitehurst, director of volunteers, in the home's library recently. Shortly before, a seminar was held on volunteer action, which described the many activities that volunteers participate in at the Children's Home. "Volunteers continue to be an integral part of the agency's program by providing a wide variety of service, from after school tutoring to library assistance and music therapy," said Mrs. Whitehurst, additional seminars, attended by members of the staff and board of directors of the Children's Home, and dealing with activities of the facility, will be held in coming weeks and months. Bison Meat Now in Demand

STORMVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—And since buffalo meat contains about 25 per cent more protein than beef, he suggests it would be a fine substitute for "the thousands of people allergic to beef."

Tucker, who runs his family's 1,000-acre Homestead Farms near this Dutchess County community, phoned a North Dakota auctioneer in 1956 to purchase four bison.

Why? "They are more interesting than cows," he says. "They're better than the same old thing."

Their thick hides allow them to withstand the New York winters without lodging and they're more economical to raise than cattle because they eat grass and hay rather than expensive grain, he says.

However, 15 of his animals died from intestinal parasites and 20 more were poisoned from wild chokecherry tree leaves.

"But I'm getting those problems licked now," says Tucker, who wants to contract to supply prime buffalo meat to an area restaurant.

Tucker sold one hide "to a hippie who cut a hole in the middle and put it on over his head." As garments, buffalo hides cost about $100 and they're "going great guns in California," he says.

Poll Supports Nixon's Stand

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—The Gallup Poll says 55 per cent of those questioned in a random telephone survey immediately after President Nixon's news conference last Friday felt Nixon should not be compelled to leave the presidency.

The Gallup organization also said Tuesday that 62 per cent of the 623 persons questioned felt it would not be in the best interest of the country for Nixon to resign.

However, 55 per cent of those questioned had "not very much" or no confidence in the Nixon administration, and 53 per cent of those who heard the President's news conference found Nixon's responses on Watergate unconvincing, the poll reported.

Responding to another question in the poll, 63 per cent said Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., should be confirmed now as vice president. Seventeen per cent said they did not favor it, now and 20 per cent had no opinion.

The Gallup organization said that, because of the small size of the sampling, the responses on impeachment could not be compared fairly with previous surveys. It said the question of resignation hadn't been raised in its previous polls.

The respondents were asked: "Do you think President Nixon should be impeached and compelled to leave the presidency or not?"

In addition to the 55 per cent who replied he should not, 28 per cent said he should and 17 per cent had no opinion.

On whether it would be in the best interest of the country for Nixon to resign, the 62 per cent who said it would not were opposed by 28 per cent who thought his resignation would be in the best interests of the country. Ten per cent had no opinion.

Those questioned also were asked: "How much confidence do you have in the Nixon administration: A great deal, a fair amount, not very much or none at all?"

The percentage responses were: 19, great deal; 23, fair amount; 32, not very much; 23,

State Board Approves Finance Resolution

In that same resolution, the delegates asked that the legislature commit itself to the financing plan by April of 1974. The bleak financial picture for public education prompted another resolution at the three-day conference: a request that the state legislature inform the districts by April of each year how much state aid the individual districts will receive. The measure, claim the school board delegates, would better enable districts to plan their fiscal needs for the next school year.

And, the association adopted a resolution requesting that a portion of the federal revenue sharing funds be diverted directly to public education. The delegates also voted to recommend that small city school districts, with a population of under 125,000, to allow certain residents to vote by absentee ballots. And it was recommended that the placement of candidates' names on school board election ballots be listed in an order determined by random lot, rather than an alphabetical listing of last names. The delegates claim that an alphabetical listing is prejudicial to candidates on the lower half of the ballot.

Bill Merrill

He Tells It
Like It Is!

Bill Merrill seems to find fault with a lot of things. Maybe he's the last angry man. He'd be the last to deny it. And maybe that's good. Maybe we NEED someone to be disturbed about status quo . . . to work for the little guy who's tired of "taking it and liking it," and always having the feeling his voice is never heard.

Well, Bill Merrill isn't afraid to speak out. About the lack of mass transportation in the city of Kingston. About the sanitary landfill project. About the way only a small percentage of our city tax dollar actually comes back to Kingston from the State to be used here! Bill's concerned about our newly proposed high school; the appointment to high public office as political favors; the congested traffic situation.

No . . . Bill doesn't soft-pedal the issues. He tells it like it is. Isn't it time we had this kind of vigorous, dynamic leadership?

For integrity . . . accountability . . . new approaches to old, tired problems . . . vote for Bill. Bill Merrill. He needs your vote to do it!

Big 'Goblin Insurance' Business

It's Halloween Night All Over

United Press International
Spooks on trick-or-treat raids this Halloween night will coerce residents in California out of $13 million worth of candy and other favors, but in case that is not enough to keep goblins from vandalizing homes in San Francisco, 100 extra police will be on duty.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, and La Canada, Calif., youngsters have sold "Goblin Insurance" for up to $1 per homeowner. And in Cowan, Tenn., hit hard by vandals last year, city officials have imposed a 7:30 p.m. curfew.

There is no Halloween curfew in New York City, but the city's safety council advised trick-or-treaters to make their rounds before dark so they won't get mugged and to have their parents inspect the goodies they bring home.

New York Health Commissioner Joseph Cimino warned parents to be especially leery of walnuts, saying they could be poisoned. Cimino said a bag of walnuts coated with squirrel poison was stolen during the weekend.

High school students in Cincinnati reported a booming business Tuesday in 35-cent "Halloween Insurance" policies. If the insured house is visited by pranksters, the student seller promises to clean up garbage, eggs, soaped windows or other messes caused by youngsters who take trick-or-treating literally.

Profits will be used by a Madera High School club which arranges exchange visits between U.S. and foreign students.

"It's much more profitable than I ever dreamed," said Jan Kripps, a German teacher and faculty adviser for the group.

Members of the La Canada High School marching band, trying to raise money to travel to music festivals, were selling policies for $1 on a similar basis in their California community. But for most residents a bigger expense of Halloween is candy. Harold Buma, economic manager of the Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco, estimated $13 million worth of candy, fruit, and other goodies will be passed out in California alone.

And some trick-or-treaters will be asking for more than just an apple or a stick of chewing gum. The United Nations agency for the welfare of children, UNICEF, will send thousands of children to New York's financial district today asking for contributions for the relief organization.

Mock Space Liftoff Slated Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A checkout of electrical systems Tuesday sent the countdown smoothly toward Friday's mock liftoff of America's Skylab 3 space mission.

The mock liftoff is the final hurdle before the actual launch Nov. 10 of the first all-rocket crew since 1966. Skylab 3 is a 13-ton, 30-foot-long, 10-foot-diameter cylindrical structure with a 30-foot-diameter airlock at one end and a 30-foot-diameter observation dome at the other.

Launchpad workers also were closing out dozens of access hatches used for working on parts of the 224-foot high Saturn 1B rocket and securing electrical connections that send power into the rocket and the crew ferry vehicle.

Officials foresaw no problems reaching the T-minus-8-second point in the rehearsal countdown on time at 11:40 a.m. EST Friday. After the test, the clock was to be turned back to the T-minus-42-hour mark and started again Nov. 8, with liftoff expected at 11:40 a.m. Nov. 10.

The Skylab 3 flight as planned would break by a day the space endurance record set by the second space station crew. The final mission to the orbiting research lab could last as long as 85 days if the crew's health is good and they have enough food and are doing productive work.

Brush Fire Out of Control, Many Homes Evacuated

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The worst city brush fire of the season roared out of control today along the fringe of an expensive neighborhood near the Pacific Ocean, leaping streets and roads and forcing the evacuation of hundreds of homes.

Officials said the blaze had eaten through more than 700 acres along a four-mile front. They threw 124 companies into the battle.

Flames cracked through brush up to 12 feet high, tongues of fire curling 50 feet into the air as the blaze shifted directions several times.

"It doesn't look very good at this point," said Battalion Chief Les Evans.

The fire was driven by hot, "Santa Ana" winds gusting southwestward at up to 20 miles per hour, but in hot spots the fire was generating its own air currents of up to 40 m.p.h., fire officials said.

Ordinarily the wind in Southern California comes off the Pacific, bringing cool ocean air, but the "Santa Anas" reverse the flow, with hot, dry air from the deserts spilling westward through mountain passes.

The California Highway Patrol closed a one-mile stretch of the Pacific Coast Highway north from Sunset Boulevard and Topanga Canyon Boulevard from the Coast Highway to Mulholland Drive. The flames jumped fire breaks and leaped across Topanga Canyon Boulevard, borne by wind-blown sparks and flaming debris.

No homes had burned by late Tuesday night, but the flames had come to within 20 feet of some homes. Many residents stood on the roofs of their homes and wet them down with garden hoses.

The sheriff's department estimated about 200 persons had been evacuated from the Castellammare area, where deputies went from house to house urging the residents to lock up their homes and leave.

Hundreds of cars, bumper to bumper, carried residents away from the fire.

An estimated 300 homes in the heavily populated Fernwood area were ordered evacuated by the sheriff's department after the fire leaped Topanga Canyon Boulevard, opening a second front.

The homes in this area, just south of the Malibu region in the hills behind the beachfront, are mostly in the $80,000 to $120,000 range.

The city fire department had 55 fire companies on the scene, backed by 36 units from the county fire department and 10 companies from neighboring Ventura County.

Eight helicopters darted over the blazing hills, through palls of heavy smoke, dropping loads of water on the flames.

Much of the burning area lay within the nation's largest urban park, which runs along the crest of the Santa Monica Mountains through Los Angeles to the sea.

Northern Ireland Border To Be Closed at Midnight

BELFAST (UPI) — The Ulster Defense Association (UDA) said today thousands of its men would seal off the border between Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic at midnight.

A spokesman for the paramilitary Protestant group said UDA patrols would enforce "a complete closure of the border" turning back all vehicles trying to enter Northern Ireland.

"We are determined the border shall be shut," the spokesman said. "It will be manned 24 hours a day by patrols of thousands of UDA men."

The UDA has demanded a complete closure of the border to combat a stepped-up campaign of violence by the militant provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA). The UDA said the operation, which it threatened earlier this month, would continue until police and army troops close the border.

"We need immediate action to make the border secure," the spokesman said. "We must therefore warn all Eire (republic) traffic not to cross the border after midnight on Wednesday. Our border operations will continue until the security forces implement the action for which we have called."

Another Protestant extremist organization, the Ulster Freedom Fighters (UFF), said Tuesday it was responsible for the killing of Patrick Campbell, a Roman Catholic who was shot dead on his doorstep in Banbridge Monday, and also the wounding of two Catholics in a bomb and bullet attack in the town of Lurgan.

Campbell was the 896th victim of four years of violence among Roman Catholics, Protestants and security forces in the British province.

Police said the death and wounding might be vengeance by Protestant extremists in retaliation for a stepped-up IRA campaign of violence.

Letters to the Editor

UFO Sightings

Editor, The Freeman:

Lately there has been a rash of "sightings" of UFOs. I just hope the people do not get into a stage of hysteria over it. First of all, I would like to say that I have seen what I call saucers, years ago. I have witnessed a sighting and witnesses were present. But the other night over the radio the D.J. said that sightings were "pouring in." This was at 2:30 a.m. It was from a local station and he said the sightings were in the southeast. I found it. A planet! It wasn't jumping up and down unless you had too much to drink (most bars close at this hour) or you were holding a telescope and your hands were slightly shaking. Try holding a telescope at an object and see how much it moves. At six in the morning I walked my dog and looked at the area where the so-called UFO was. The star was still there. Why couldn't life exist on another planet? It sure can. Why should we be the only life in the whole universe? It would be like two insects on a leaf and they say to one another, "Oh, there is no other life on those other leaves; we can't see them!"

You maybe will call me over-imaginative, but I had reliable witnesses in 1965 when I saw seven saucers over the reservoir near Woodstock. Airplanes do not fly as slow nor as close as these spacecraft. I went to radar school at Kessler Field in 1956 and I know my airplanes. Show me seven planes that are 100 yards long and fly at 25 knots. I just wish to sum this up by saying, don't jump to conclusions when you see a UFO. Check your head. How much have you been drinking? Was it a weather balloon? I have spoken on the subject on shows including the Long John Nebel Show and yet I do not believe everything I hear. Just watch for what you see and watch carefully. A planet or star is not really a UFO.

Sincerely,
GEORGE MONTGOMERY

Opposes Bond Issue

Editor, The Freeman:

Interest charges to the taxpayers will be at least 2.4 billion dollars, if the 3.5 billion dollar transportation bond issue is approved. This makes a total cost of at least 5.9 billion dollars, principle and interest, on the largest proposed bond issue in the state's history. Citizens Public Expenditures Survey, Inc. of New York, has issued these figures, and it is recommending that taxpayers do not approve the measure because it is "plain too costly," and it is a departure from the responsible "pay as you go" financing.

If this measure is approved, this debt will be added to the incredible deficit under which New York right now is functioning.

Interest accrued on these municipal bonds is a tax-free income for those fortunate enough to be able to afford them — they are sold only in amounts of five thousand dollars and over. The irony of this is that the very persons who have to absorb the interest costs via higher taxes, are seldom the ones who are financially able enough to participate in this form of accruing some tax-free income for themselves.

To those who question "what will Ulster County get from the bond issue if it is approved — the answer is simple — it will be higher taxes."

Lloyd N-Plant

Editor, The Freeman:

As concerned citizens of this Hudson Valley area we are desperately urging the Freeman and its readers to fight against the proposed building of a nuclear power plant in the Town of Lloyd. We must become aware before it is too late.

We know it is a threat to our health, our future, our property, area livestock and farms, and our environment. The effect a nuclear power plant may have on our unborn children is terrifying. There is no homeowners' policy that will insure us in the event of a nuclear accident. We must run the risks of living with a nuclear plant in our backyards while New York City will get 90 per cent of all the electricity it produces.

Safety measures in existing atomic energy plants have never been fully tested. The possibility of a "melt down," the failure of the secondary cooling system, is too horrible to imagine.

Please do not let yourselves and your families down. There must be an alternative to nuclear fission plants. We must not let one be built in Lloyd.

Sincerely,

Misspelling

Editor, The Freeman:

When a person runs for public office, the voters hopefully will judge a candidate on many things, among which might be his past record in government, business, profession, his ability to communicate his ideas to the public, his appearance, his endorsements from other public officials, and the manner in which he runs his campaign. I do not think that one should be judged solely by a mistake that has been made, but if the same mistake is repeated and continued, serious doubts about the candidate's qualifications should be raised. On one of the campaign signs advocating

William P. Curran for County Legislature which is mounted on his truck, Rosendale has remained misspelled for more than two weeks. If elected, will he also be as careless in the County Legislature?

Cordially yours,

Woodstock Campaign

Editor, The Freeman

With regard to the Woodstock Campaign — it was not at all clear to me in Paul L. De Lizio's attack of Justice Sweeney for using his favored position to issue a statement, whether De

Lizio was speaking as a member of the previous administration which did nothing, as a member of the present Town Board which changed only by the election of two Democrats and a new Republican Supervisor and accomplished much, or whether he was speaking in his present capacity of Republican Campaign Manager.

Nixon's Behavior

Editor, The Freeman:

The behavior of Richard Nixon in the past few months culminating in his erratic and dictatorial performance of last weekend, leaves only one avenue to the American people.

As a citizen of this country, I am deeply ashamed to have such a man in the White House. Any promise he makes now is late and hollow, and cannot remedy the damage he has already done to this nation. His lies of yesterday, if not judged today, could haunt us tomorrow.

We cannot flounder through three more years of deceit. Impeachment by Congress or forced resignation is the only way to make an angry and confused nation whole again. We, as a free people, must see that our country is brought back to the people.

Nuclear Problems Exposed

By CARL GRAHAM

TOWN OF ULSTER produces great amounts of energy," Lebac said. "But look what goes along with it."

Lebac said that nuclear power plants in normal operation produce radiation that causes cancer. "Stack gases," krypton 85 and iodine 131, are discharged into the atmosphere and waste water is disposed of locally, both of which produce cancer-causing radiation, he said.

Lebac also said that the acids used to clean uranium particles in nuclear reactors become "violently radioactive," posing a threat to life and causing severe disposal problems. Nuclear cooling systems are apt to fail because "nuclear plants are built by humans, who are prone to mistakes," Lebac said. He said that the Atomic Energy Commission has never conducted a test of the effects of "meltdown," a condition that occurs when the water cooling system fails. When this occurs the uranium pile reaches a temperature of 4,000 degrees Fahrenheit, a temperature that melts concrete, he said.

Lebac, a retired New York City science teacher, said that meltdowns not only release the uranium pile from its protective chamber, but produce as a byproduct strontium 90 and caesium 137, two long-lived, violently radioactive gases.

Contrasting the effects of breakdowns at two types of power plants, Lebac said that breakdowns or boiler blowups at conventional power plants produce only limited local effects, but that a meltdown at a nuclear plant produces severe radiation effects on all life within a radius of 50 miles. He also said that fatality estimates given by the Atomic Energy Commission are valid only if the area is evacuated totally within 12 hours, a feat he said would be impossible in densely populated urban areas.

"Not a week goes by without something crazy happening in nuclear reactors," he said. "The whole business is insane."

"The main difference between our federal scandals and New York State's is Rockefeller's sophistication. Why don't we have investigators to find out how this 'robbery' legislation came about? Why haven't we been able to find out which assemblymen and state senators voted for this new law?" Nirenberg asked.

"My resolution calls on the Ulster County Legislature to demand repeal of this law by our State Representatives. I am also asking our local town and village boards to pass like resolutions and I will ask local governments throughout the state to institute grassroots legislation to ask for repeal of this law before it takes effect," he said.

"Every county, town, city and village government seeks and competes for new and additional tax base in order to hold taxes down yet our so-called representatives in Albany and Rockefeller intentionally destroy it, giving the New York Telephone Company many millions of dollars that we taxpayer will have to make up for out of our pockets. Can we really trust these people with the $3.5 billion bond issue blank check they now seek as well?" Nirenberg asked.

Telephone Freeze Now Under Attack

ELLENVILLE "The strange, almost unnoticed tax freeze enacted for the New York Telephone Company is another example of the Rockefeller 'Reverse-Robin Hoodism' that is draining the home-owner and taxpayer of this state in order to add additional tens of millions of dollars to the pockets of the Billion Dollar New York Telephone Company," Ulster County Legislator Alex J. Nirenberg (D-Dist. 10) charged today. He proposed a resolution for the November meeting of the legislature calling for a repeal of the tax freeze granted last May to the New York Telephone Company by Gov. Rockefeller and the Republican leadership of the State Legislature.

"This hideous law that was slipped through almost unnoticed in May, would freeze the property tax on telephone and other equipment after 1974, leaving all the taxpayers with an additional unjust burden over and above our rightful share to make up for the difference," said Nirenberg who is now seeking election here as Wawarsing Town Councilman. "Early this year the Republican leadership in Ulster County defeated my attempt to give a similar property tax freeze to senior citizens who live only on social security or fixed pensions. They charged it would be a new 'give-away' program. Yet for the billion dollar telephone company it has now become law. This is what is meant by the 'arrogance of power' we suffer under as the most heavily taxed citizens in the United States," Nirenberg continued.

One recommendation was to take first and second grades from the older Bulkeley School and place them in the Chancellor Livingston School, with grades six and seven moving to Bulkeley.

The overall plan would have K-5 at Livingston; six and seven at Bulkeley; and 8-12 at the high school. Regarding the auditorium-gymnasium plan, Dr. Sailer suggested the present gym be equipped to handle from 600 to 700 persons seated, and a larger gym with expanded locker room facilities should be built.

The student lounge would be created from the present all-purpose room at the high school, and Dr. Sailer also suggested accelerating plans to go to a school-owned bus fleet from rental basis.

Lebac called on his listeners to contact their Congressmen in an effort to repeal the Price-Anderson bill, which he said provides for governmental underwriting of insurance to protect private firms against damages in case of nuclear plant failure.

"If we could get this bill repealed the whole nuclear program would be dropped," he predicted.

The 20-minute film, produced in England at a time when the British government was considering purchasing American nuclear reactors for power plants, quotes several nuclear scientists on the danger inherent in nuclear power production and also presents interviews with several persons who said they were fired from jobs with the AEC or private power companies for questioning safety measures at nuclear power plants.

Following his talk, Lebac answered questions from the audience and spoke informally with several people during a refreshment period.

Janis Kobran, who served as coordinator for the meeting, said she felt the turnout was "rather poor, but we are pleased that we were able to get at least 60 people to attend."

Petersen Rides Again

Even the pleasure for Nixon in at least getting of Cox is as meager fare. Cox sits with his background a liberal Kennedy Democrat rather than his actual conduct as special prosecutor. On the contrary, because of his name in respect for his presidency, Cox was reluctant to bring down the President on a peripheral issue — evasion charges, for example. Now with Cox purged, Nixon may encourage prosecutors so eager to prove their toughness that they prove far less fastidious about the presidency than despised Harvard professor

ITT Files Given Cox Before He Was Fired...

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House officials, breaking their silence in an effort to calm the rekindled ITT controversy, say they voluntarily supplied Archibald Cox with White House files on the antitrust settlement before he was fired as special Watergate prosecutor.

Documents in those files, one high-ranking official said, "do not show any personal involvement by the President in the terms of the ITT settlement in the summer of 1971."

In a memo uncovered by the Senate Watergate committee last August, former presidential aide Charles W. Colson said the secret documents would "directly involve the President" in the ITT scandal.

The comments Tuesday night by high-level White House officials — the first time they had spoken out on the issue — were clearly intended to rebut the Colson memo.

There were other developments Tuesday in the controversy over the out-of-court settlement of the antitrust case against the huge conglomerate, International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

The New York Times, quoting sources close to the Watergate prosecution, reported that President Nixon told then-Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst not to appeal a court ruling favorable to ITT in one aspect of the antitrust case.

White House spokesman Gerald L. Warren acknowledged the President had given the instruction to Kleindienst, contending he "had every right" to do so, but added that Nixon later withdrew the order after receiving more details about the case.

Cox told the Senate

Judiciary Committee, which is investigating his firing, that he may have been the source of the Times story. He said he had told Democratic Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Philip A. Hart of Michigan and two of their aides about Kleindienst's account of the conversation with Nixon.

It was disclosed that former Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson had reported to the Senate Judiciary committee last month, before his resignation, that Cox had copies of five secret memoranda on the ITT

The White House officials, who would not allow use of their names, said Cox had the five documents because "the White House voluntarily provided Mr. Cox with our entire file on the ITT matter... on a confidential basis." One official added: "The documents we provided demonstrated that while the President took an active interest in the overall antitrust policy of his administration and while he wanted to ensure that actions of the Justice Department complied with this policy in a general way, the documents do not show any personal involvement by the President in the terms of the ITT settlement in the summer of 1971."

The Colson memo, dated March 30, 1972, contended that Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general should be withdrawn because there was serious risk that Senate confirmation hearings would uncover evidence of White House intervention in the antitrust suit against ITT.

ITT pledged $400,000 to help the city of San Diego underwrite the Republican National Convention.

Offered Post

President Nixon has met with Senator William B. Saxbe and offered him the post of attorney general, informed Senate sources said. Saxbe's office would not confirm that the White House meeting was held, but Saxbe, frequently an outspoken critic of the President, told reporters he had been sounded out about taking the job by top White House aides. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

...Ex-Watergate Prosecutor Concerned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Archibald Cox has expressed concern that any new special prosecutor named by President Nixon might not have authority to look into campaign-financing violations, wiretapping and the ITT case.

Nixon has promised that a new special prosecutor will be named this week to investigate "what is called the Watergate matter."

Cox, who was fired as special prosecutor on Nixon's orders, told the Senate Judiciary Committee on Tuesday that he considers the President's phrase "the Watergate matter" to involve only the break-in at Democratic national headquarters and the subsequent cover-up.

"I do not think that definition covers my full jurisdiction," Cox said.

Cox contends his successor operating under Nixon's definition of Watergate would be without authority to investigate allegations that the Nixon administration improperly settled an antitrust suit against ITT; engaged in illegal wiretapping; and accepted improperly in accepting campaign money from the dairy industry.

Cox told the committee Monday that he received, through then-Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson, numerous complaints from White House staff members about the breadth of his investigation.

Cox was scheduled to testify again today in the Judiciary Committee's inquiry into his firing. He was dismissed Oct. 20 for refusing to halt efforts to obtain White House documents relating to his investigation.

Meanwhile, the Senate committee investigating the Watergate case planned to resume its hearings today with testimony from Berl Bernhard, who ran Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's 1972 campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The committee also agreed to try to renew an agreement canceled by the White House that would have given the panel summaries of Watergate-related presidential tape recordings.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said the agreement collapsed in part because of "the haste with which this was put together at the last moment." Under the agreement, Stennis would have authenticated summaries of the tapes.

The White House agreed to submit to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica a detailed analysis of the tapes for an item-by-item ruling on what portions will be withheld from a grand jury.

In other developments: It was revealed that Richardson said before he resigned that Cox had copies of five secret memoranda, one of which a White House aide said would "directly involve the President" in the ITT scandal.

The documents are among those described in a March 30, 1972 memo from then-special presidential counsel Charles W. Colson to then-White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman.

A House subcommittee concluded that the CIA and its top officials were "unwitting dupes" in providing materials used in the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist. Members of the White House "plumbers" unit broke into the office after Ellsberg gave newsmen copies of the Pentagon papers.

In testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday, Cox said he may have been the indirect source of a news leak about a conversation between Nixon and then-Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst about the ITT case.

The New York Times carried a story Tuesday saying Nixon ordered Kleindienst not to appeal one phase of the ITT antitrust case.

The story said Kleindienst had related the conversation to Watergate prosecutors. Cox told the committee he had discussed that conversation with Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and two of their aides. He said he had been assured neither was the source of the leak.

Cox called his breach of confidence "an error of carelessness" and apologized. At the White House, a spokesman said Cox's testimony illustrates "the partisan attitude that characterized his activities in recent months."

Some time after the conversation with Kleindienst, Nixon withdrew his opposition to the appeal and the ITT case was settled out of court.

Impeachment Action Unlikely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Judiciary Committee appears ready to move quickly on the nomination of Gerald R. Ford to be vice president, but politics may bog down action on impeachment of President Nixon.

So far the committee has made only procedural moves on the impeachment question, deciding for example to vest subpoena power solely in its chairman, Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., instead of sharing it with Republicans.

Rodino hopes to move quickly on legislation to create a new special Watergate prosecutor, and there may be a final House vote on Ford shortly after Thanksgiving.

Then the committee should be ready to begin a planned "inquiry" on whether formal impeachment moves against the President should go ahead.

But despite many telegrams and letters urging impeachment, it appeared the committee, as well as the full House, had little stomach to proceed with it.

Rodino said Tuesday: "Any responsible American would view the prospect of impeachment with a deep sense of sadness and abiding concern for the future of our democratic system of government. I mean that right down to my marrow."

The House leadership hasn't moved off its original position that impeachment talk was premature.

So, unless Nixon has more confrontations or the Watergate grand juries make major new disclosures, the impeachment issue could simply die.

The House Judiciary Committee, composed of 38 lawyers, shows signs of going slow on the issue with lengthy legal debate.

There appeared little chance the inquiry could be completed before well into 1974.

Next year is an election year for all House members, and they will be watching the sentiments of their constituents.

It remained to be seen whether public opinion would press for impeachment action or whether the public will say, "we've had enough" as it seemed to say of the Watergate hearings.

Committee Taking Tape Fight to Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Watergate committee, with the support of Democratic Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, has unanimously decided to fight in the courts for access to President Nixon's secret tape recordings bearing on the affair.

At a private session Tuesday, the committee also decided to call Berl Bernhard, presidential campaign director for Sen. Edmund Muskie, when it resumes public hearings today. The public hearings have been recessed since Oct. 11.

Committee Chairman Sam J. Ervin, D-S.C., said the committee would push for swift enactment of legislation which would give jurisdiction to the U.S. district court in Washington to enforce subpoenas brought by congressional committees against the President.

"I'm for it," Mansfield said. "I'll bring it up as soon as possible."

Ervin said the proposed legislation would be submitted no later than Wednesday and predicted it "could pass within 48 hours" of its introduction.

The committee needs such legislation because Chief U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica dismissed a suit on jurisdictional grounds the committee's earlier suit seeking Nixon's tapes. Sirica said only an act of Congress could empower him to hear the case.

At its meeting, the committee also decided:

—Clark MacGregor, who succeeded John N. Mitchell as Nixon's campaign director two weeks after the Watergate break-in, will testify Thursday.

—To aim for an end of the public hearings by Thanksgiving.

—Voted to seek immunity from prosecution for three prospective witnesses in the campaign financing phase of its inquiry, due to begin next week. They were John Meyer, a former aide to billionaire Howard Hughes; and Robert Lilly and Robert Isham, both

Gardiner Man, 28, Dies Of Accident Injuries

NEWBURGH — Wayne V. Latulippe, 28, of Main Street, Gardiner, who was critically injured in a one-car crash Thursday in the Town of Shawangunk, died Tuesday night at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh.

Latulippe had suffered a massive skull fracture and other injuries when his car ran off Hoagsburgh Hill Road and crashed through three fences, coming to rest against a fourth fence 300 yards from the roadway.

Meanwhile, two young Kingston men were hospitalized Tuesday night following a one-car crash on First Avenue.

City police said Robert L. Senor, 21, of 35 Grove Street, was driving east on First Avenue at about 5:20 p. m. when he swerved to avoid a dog which had run across the roadway, and crashed into a boulder.

Senor and a passenger in his car, Frank Fabbie, 17, of 20 Crane Street, were both taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's Ambulance complaining of neck injuries. They were each listed in satisfactory condition at the hospital today.

A car-motorcycle crash in Saugerties Tuesday morning resulted in injuries to the motorcycle operator, Timothy Landell, 17, of Route 2, Box 537, Saugerties.

Saugerties Town Police said Landell was travelling south on Canoe Hill Road when a car driven by Anna Haines, 33, of RD 3, Box 163A, Saugerties, which was traveling in the opposite direction, made a left turn in front of the motorcycle, and the vehicle collided.

Landell was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance. He was listed in fair condition today.

Police issued the woman driver a summons for failure to yield the right of way.

Money-Grab Is Under Investigation

NEW YORK (UPI)—Maurice H. Nadjari, the special state prosecutor, has announced that his office was investigating charges that narcotics agents took $130,000 from a suitcase containing more than $1 million in cash after they seized the valise from two suspected narcotics dealers.

The money, taken from Joseph DiNapoli and Vincent C. Papa outside Dinapolis' Bronx apartment on Feb. 4, 1972, was to have been used, according to investigators, to purchase part of the $73 million worth of heroin and cocaine stolen from the Police Department's property clerks' office between 1969 and 1972. The drugs taken from the police included narcotics seized in the famous "French Connection" case.

Papa, 56, is currently serving a five-year sentence on a narcotics conviction. DiNapoli, 38, is serving three years for tax evasion and conspiracy.

Tuesday, DiNapoli appeared before a grand jury empaneled by Nadjari to investigate the case of the missing money. His lawyer, Frank A. Lopez, insisted that the suitcase contained $1.1 million and not the $967,550 reportedly seized by the joint state and federal agents.

Lopez said that, according to DiNapoli and Papa, "there was approximately $1.1 million in the suitcase when they started out. The amount reported by the agents was about $130,000 short."

Lopez said DiNapoli was called to testify on the case but was dismissed when he declined to sign a waiver of immunity. He was returned to the Federal House of Detention.

A spokesman for Nadjari's office said Lopez' charges would be thoroughly investigated.

Good Hunting In Ulster

KINGSTON — Response to a Sunday New York News advertisement promoting the hunting season in Ulster County indicates that local resorts will enjoy a good hunting vacation business this fall.

The Ulster County Resort Information Office has sent out the new Hunting Brochure to more than 1,300 persons in the New York metropolitan area and adjacent areas in Connecticut, New Jersey, Long Island and the lower Hudson Valley who have indicated they wish to hunt in Ulster County this November. These names are available in packets of 100 to any resort in the county wishing to send out literature to prospective hunting season vacationers. Resort owners interested in sending their own mailing to these prospective customers should contact the Resort Information Office, Ulster County Building, Names and addresses are free to anyone doing business in Ulster County.

The county has also received 5,769 responses to a vacation advertisement in Redbook magazine, also available in packets.

Beginning at Noon on Monday, October 1, the name of Saugerties Savings Bank was changed to SAWYER Savings Bank. Just the name. Nothing else. We have plans for the near future that will take us beyond Saugerties to communities where "Sawyer" can be their bank as much as ours. Yet our heritage is preserved in the little saw mill and the little sawyer—solid symbols of Saugerties.

GOP Hopeful Lists Proposals

WOODSTOCK Val Cadden, Republican candidate for Woodstock town councilman, has made a number of proposals for the next four years saying:

● "I bring to the town office, a demonstrated knowledge of land usage, construction, organization and finance, and promise to use this experience on any and all programs.

● "I bring to town government an interest in communicating with the people. This interest would bring me to Town Hall at regular pre-set published times for the benefit of residents who wish to talk over some form of town business," Ms. Cadden said.

● "I bring to the town a personal commitment to follow through on an up-town parking lot, which I feel is needed not only to alleviate congestion at the post office and the library, but also to attract more customers to all business in the village.

● "I bring to the town my experience in recreation and my commitment both to the expansion of recreation facilities at Andy Lee Memorial Field and to the development of pocket parks appropriate to the needs of the various hamlets," she promised.

● "I bring to the town an interest and enthusiasm for both current and future programs for a dozen years of experience in our senior citizens and I will try to involve their talents, knowledge and energy in community projects, and to help with the problems of the shut-in, sick and disabled.

● "I bring to the town office

ment my belief that there are many things which can be accomplished in Woodstock — without over-taxing the already over-taxed taxpayer," she concluded.

Scala Cites Record

SAUGERTIES Republican County Legislator Charles Scala (R-Dist. 1) said today he feels his record warrants his reelection stressing his support of raising the income limit to $5,000 for a partial tax exemption for those 65 years of age or over. He said he also supported establishment of standards of conduct for county officers and employees, a re-evaluation of the Federal Food Stamp Program and placing a freeze on the hiring of new county employees unless approved by the Finance Committee.

Scala also supported a feasibility study of abolishing the Ulster County Health Department and establishing a county environmental management council. He favored the establishment of a Solid Waste Disposal Task Force and endorsed the concept of a substantial rollback of prices on all consumer commodities.

The Saugerties legislator said he was opposed to the expenditure of $275,000 for the purchase of the Buick Garage property on Main Street, the construction of a $2 million airport facility on Hurley Mountain, the adoption of the $29.5 million 1972 county budget, the increase of $1 million in the 1972 Social Service budget and the adoption of the $32.8 million budget for 1973.

Nace Seeks to Finish Programs

Three-term Republican Town of Ulster for 29 years and Legislator Richard D. Nace (Dist. 2) would like the opportunity to complete some of the programs he has introduced such as an Office of the Aging, cleanup of the Esopus Creek, widening of Ulster Avenue Mall and consolidating the County Highway Department under one roof.

He has been a resident of the is a civil engineering draftsman for the City of New York at the Department of Water Resources, Ashokan.

Nace has served as Town of Ulster tax collector, a committeeman for 12 years, a pilot with the Eighth Air Force, staff officer in the 156th National Guard Battalion, trustee of the Town of Ulster Library, past treasurer, Chambers School PTA; past president and Region Three, zone chairman, Lions Club and a member of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

As a legislator, Nace has served on many committees including Social Services, Bridge and Highway, Parks and Recreation, Data Processing, Operational Efficiency and Tax Base Study.

"County government is a round the clock operation," Nace explained. "Qualified people must be elected to guide the county's operation. The complexities of government today are overwhelming. People are demanding more and better of everything which creates an ever increasing tax situation and God knows people have more than enough taxes," Nace concluded, adding that "only by wise and thoughtful decisions now, and careful planning for the future can we meet tomorrow's challenges."

Nace said that his top priority in the past years has been the needs of the senior citizens. "I feel these are the first people we should provide for as they are the ones who have been paying for the development of this great country of ours with their taxes. I would like to see a nutritional program for the aged and shut-ins who are not able to get out anymore, — transportation for them to get out once a week for shopping and such things as doctor's visits," he said.

Hyatt Campaigning In District Two

Stephen G. Hyatt, Republican in safe hands as our young people gradually take over the reins of government and business.

Hyatt foresees the future of Ulster County as one of growth and prosperity. But with this growth, Hyatt feels there will be many attendant problems. New roads and bridges will need to be built, new and additional sources of power must be found, adequate solid waste disposal facilities developed, a fair and just allocation of lands for housing, business and industrial usage must be provided. Hyatt believes that all of these factors must be carefully studied and planned to prevent the destruction of our county's natural beauty and ecological balance. At the same time, Hyatt points out that sound business practice must be exercised to guard against excessive taxation and wasteful expenditures of money and resources.

Of deep concern to Hyatt is the future opportunities which our county will offer to its senior citizens. "These are the people who have built our county," he said. He feels that it is not only our obligation to see that they have security and contentment but also the chance to continue to serve. Hyatt believes that senior citizens do not want to be served so much as they want to continue to serve. Our legislature can do much to tap this great resource of professional, business and technical skills and experience to the benefit of our county and the preservation of the dignity and self-respect of all who no longer are engaged actively in the business of earning a living.

For 14 summers Hyatt was employed by the Ulster County Health Department as a temporary sanitary inspector of resort hotels and children's camps. Through his experience in this field he became intimately acquainted with the problems of each section of the county, and has a profound appreciation of the natural resources and ecological dimensions which have made Ulster a foremost resort area in the east.

His interest in young people, garnered from a wide experience as a former scoutmaster, neighborhood commissioner and scout camp director, coupled with his many years of work with teenagers, has given Hyatt an understanding and appreciation of the problems facing modern day youth. He has an abiding faith and a sure knowledge that the future of our country will be

KENNETH DARGIS

Scores Funds

TOWN OF ULSTER
Kenneth Dargis, Democratic candidate for County Legislator in Dist. 2 (Towns of Ulster and Kingston) stated today that "It is inconceivable how the county treasurer can leave large amounts of money in non-interest bearing accounts. In checking our county records I found a substantial amount of money in non-interest bearing accounts," Dargis claimed.

"For instance, during September, 1973 in just two funds, the County Road and County Machinery, over $150,000 was left in a non-bearing account. On an annual basis it is estimated that this inept handling of county money will cost the taxpayers $12,000 in lost interest," Dargis said.

"The recent New York State Audit was very critical of the fact that over $350,000 was placed in non-interest bearing accounts for three years. Unfortunately criticism of this type does not seem to phase the Republicans. A recent resolution which would have required the county treasurer to give a periodic status report on funds in interest and non-interest bearing accounts was defeated by the Republican controlled legislature," he said.

Dargis pointed out that the defeat of this resolution has cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars in revenues. It is becoming obvious to the taxpayers of Ulster County that the Republican legislators are more interested in representing their political machine than the people.

Problem Attacked

CITY OF KINGSTON
"We are only months away from a major garbage problem" in the City of Kingston and in Ulster County and "governing bodies do not wish to act," Ann Rartz, Republican candidate for (City of Kingston), claimed today.

"Turn the wheels now, not next year," she urged in seeking a two-year term on the legislature.

"I fully realize that the problem of garbage is about the most unpopular subject for discussion in an election year," she explained.

"I do not wish to indicate that the panic button is being pushed at this time, but, the problem is critical!"

"Garbage, uncollected at the curb, or worse, piled in your backyard, may not be a hazard or health problem during the cold winter months; but, the spring and warm weather will bring the subject right to your front door. The smell alone will be unbearable to say nothing of the rats and flies," she said.

Yallum Urges 'No Vote' On Reapport

TOWN OF KINGSTON
Janet Yallum Democratic candidate for county legislator from Dist. 2 (Ulster and Town of Kingston) urges a "no" vote on the reapportionment plan to be decided Nov. 6.

In a statement released today, she reminded voters that the plan, Local Law No. 2, will be found to the extreme right of the voting machine.

She noted that some have reluctantly decided to back the reapportionment plan because its defeat will raise problems. A reluctant "yes" still puts another vote in that column," she said. "Not voting on the issue is the same as voting for the plan. Those in favor of the reapportionment plan will be sure to find number 25 on the machine (where the proposal is printed). Those against it should do no less."

Mrs. Yallum said that "carving safe districts for your own party may not be fair game, but gerrymandering is not an Ulster County invention. The question is politics plus ethics. There was a promise to let the voters decide at a primary or special election; instead, we're asked to vote while electing legislators for those same districts," she said.

L. C. ELMENDORF

Problems Are Noted

"It is imperative that the county start working immediately on its three most pressing problems — solid waste disposal, water and sewage," Republican-Conservative legislator Lester C. "Bud" Elmendorf (R-Dist. 2) said this week.

The studies of these problems have already been made. All we need now is implementation of programs to cope with these problems," he said, suggesting that "commissions be established in each area to move things along as expeditiously as possible."

Elmendorf, who would represent the Towns of Ulster and Kingston on the Legislature next year, was instrumental in helping halt the Pure Water's Authority's plan to dump Westchester County's garbage in Ulster County. He said he now intends to work toward the establishment of the solid waste, water and sewage commissions.

Part of his motivation, he explained, stems from the pressing water pollution problems that now exist in heavily populated areas including some which are experiencing severe drinking water difficulties.

Elmendorf, who has served on the Legislature for the past six years, was the leading force in the establishment and reconstruction of the County Jail Parking lot which has realized an increase in annual revenue of from $4,700 to $22,000.

He was also responsible for co-sponsoring legislation which called for the construction of a new Leggs Mills Bridge from its once "one-lane antiquated, aggravating condition to an efficient two-way, traffic-moving span."

Elmendorf was also responsible for legislation which initiated the formation of a County Public Relations Department.

A Kingston native, he attended Champlain College enlisted in the U. S. Navy and served 37 months in naval communications aboard the U.S.S. Marblehead, Raleigh and Savannah. He was honorably discharged in 1946.

A resident of Millers Lane, he was instrumental in the formation of the Ulster Fire Dist. 1 and the Spring Lake Fire Department. He served eight years as fire commissioner of Ulster Fire Dist. 1, served as president, secretary and assistant chief and captain of the Spring Lake Fire Department. He has served on many charitable fund raising drives in the Town of Ulster.

Treasurer of Howard R. St. John Inc., 44 Main Street, Kingston, Elmendorf is a member of Kingston Post 150, American Legion; Kingston Lodge 10, F&AM; Town of Ulster Republican-Club Inc., Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association and Spring Lake Fire Department.

Wants Budget Revealed Now

KINGSTON

Harry D. Graham, Conservative Party candidate for County Legislature from the new Dist. 3 (City of Kingston), today demanded that the incumbents comprising the present Ulster County Legislature make public, prior to election day, the tentative county budget for 1974.

His demand, he said, "is to avoid concealment of what he called 'further raids upon the county treasury by the ruling politicians.'"

Graham observed that last year, not until after election day — Nov. 14, was the tentative county budget for 1973 released to the public for inspection and it was at that time that it was discovered that the politicians had proposed fat salary raises for themselves and other politicians on the payroll, to the extent of up to 60 per cent increases. (The Legislature failed to act on the proposed salary increases.)

Graham also accused the legislature of squandering federal revenue sharing funds on "patronage" projects, while "concealing and burying other of such funds as 'reserves' for future political patronage projects, under various guises in the bookkeeping setup."

"Only if the county budget is made public sufficiently before election day, will another attempted big steal be averted," Graham said.

Klein Raps Debate Offer

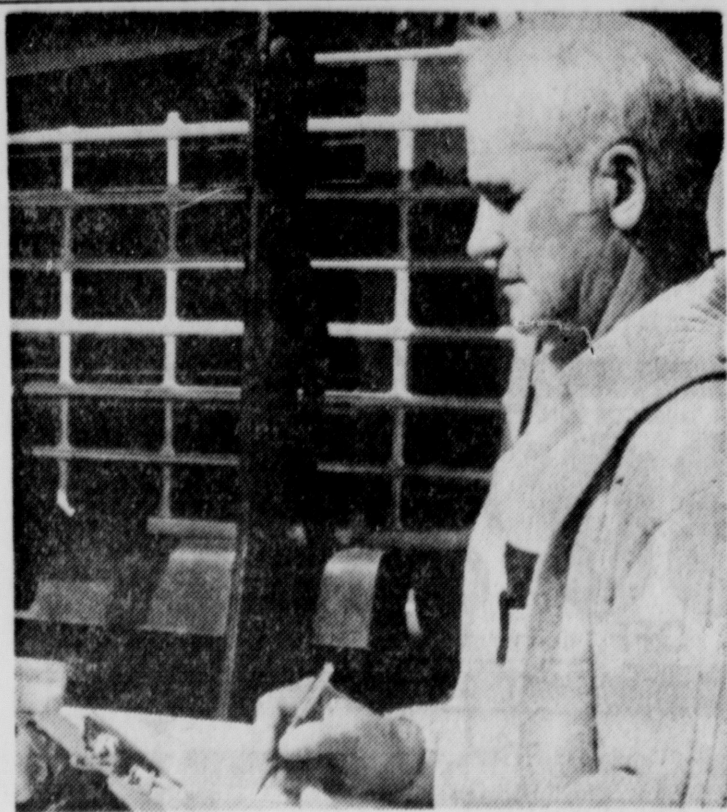

ROSENDALE
County Legislator, Louis M. Klein (D-Dist. 7), who last week challenged one of his opponents, Republican Glenn Debrosky (R-Dist. 7) to debate their respective records in the Ulster County Legislature, today had the following response to Debrosky's offer to debate:

"Last week, in response to an accusation by one of my opponents in this year's election, Glenn Debrosky, to the effect that I would not run on my record, I challenged Debrosky to debate our respective records. I was rather dismayed to learn that Debrosky would accept this challenge only if I agreed to four conditions, which in my opinion would render the debate meaningless," Klein said.

"Debrosky insists, among other things, that the debate include all seven candidates for the Legislature in their district and be limited in scope only to the 1973 county budget, Klein explained.

"These demands are utterly ridiculous and untenable. First, little need be said to show that a debate among seven candidates would be unworkable, especially when four of these candidates are unfamiliar with the county budget. It would be wholly unfair and demeaning to the non-incumbents to expect them to debate a budget which they have never seen or had part in preparing," he continued.

"Furthermore, the challenge was to debate our records, not the 1974 budget. Debrosky knows full-well that as a member of the Finance Committee, I am not at liberty to debate the budget until its revisions are complete. These limitations have been established not by me, but by the Finance Committee Chairman Peter J. Savago (R-Dist. 8), in order to protect and assure the integrity of the committee process. The budget is not yet in final form."

CHECKING OUT PLOW — Arthur Ray Van Valkenburgh, Woodstock superintendent of Highways, checks out a new heavy duty four-wheel drive snowplow. According to the superintendent this is one of six new heavy duty pieces of equipment purchased by the town in the last three years, and will be of great benefit to town residents during the winter. Van Valkenburgh is running for his third term as superintendent of highways this November.

Stedje Hits Refuse Pickup

TOWN OF ULSTER
Independent candidate for Town of Ulster Supervisor, Robert Stedje, stated today that, if elected he would propose a study of the town in regard to providing refuse pickup for the residents. According to Stedje, this service is now provided by private refuse collectors, but the town maintains the landfill site. Stedje said, "In view of the fact that the cost to the residents is constantly increasing, it may very well be that the town could provide this service at a considerable savings to the residents. The cost this year for the landfill will be well over $100,000 representing approximately one third of the general fund's expenditures."

"The present administration 'can't see the forest for the trees,'" he said. "By their own listing of their accomplishments they make no mention of the problems that are of most interest to residents in many sections of the town."

Justice Sweeney Cites Board Work

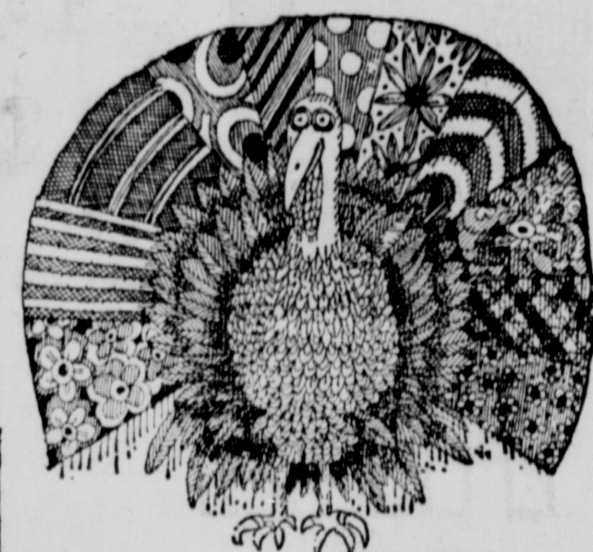

WOODSTOCK 65 for an exemption on their property taxes. "The bi-partisan Woodstock Town Board has been able to reduce taxes for the forthcoming year," Justice Kevin Sweeney said today. "This has been made possible," he said, "because the board has been diligent in keeping its expenses down, and because its income has increased because of the rise in population. "If I'm reelected, said Sweeney, "I'd like to look for more ways to save the taxpayer money." Concerned about easing the tax burdens of senior citizens, most of whom live on fixed incomes, yet must pay ever-rising prices for essentials, Sweeney said he is in favor of raising the income limitation from $5,000 to a more realistic $6,000 to qualified people over 65.

"I'd also like to see people over 65 given a 10-day extension past September 30 on paying their school taxes, since most people don't get their social security checks until after the first of the month," Sweeney said. "Another measure that may ultimately save the taxpayers money is working with local merchants in developing ways to support their efforts to bring money into the town. We want to help make local businesses viable enterprises," he said. "At the seminar given by the Small Business Administration which I recently sponsored, about a quarter of the town's merchants learned about the services provided to small businesses by the administration," Sweeney concluded.

Independent Hopeful Critical of Action

WOODSTOCK — but haven't you in fact completely ignored the rights of the victims?" Van Wagenen asked. "Why is it that the police agencies who work within our township hesitate to avail themselves of your courtroom and instead make use of justices in other towns? Perhaps, they too feel, that the 'People of the State of New York' are not getting a fair shake," he said. "I am not a person who believes in straight jail sentences, or in outrageous fines, but let's face facts; you cannot deter anyone by pleading for the cooperation and good judgement when, if they 'You are 'The People' of the State of New York,' and they would not have come whether you like it or not, you before you in the first instance, are on that bench to serve those If these people gave a damn people. You are there to protect about our laws, our town, or their rights as taxpayers and our justice, they wouldn't be residents of the community. stealing, breaking into cars and You are there to protect the homes or painting squares on rights of an accused, certainly other peoples' property."

WRONG KEY, BUT — Even though he was not a winner, Euclide Marchetti of Grandview Avenue seems to be enjoying himself as a participant in the Treasure Hunt sponsored by the Kingston Uptown Businessmen's Association. Ably assisted by Marianne Engholm, thousands of shoppers in the uptown Kingston area tried their luck at opening the Treasure Chest. Some 100 free gifts were given away by the uptown merchants with a total value at more than $900. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Patent to Saugerties Man for Nozzle

Otto A. Trnka of Saugerties No. 3,756,516 on the invention, the nozzle which come into effect, that when water passes through the nozzle, a smooth surface is presented to the flow of water, considerably reducing turbulence and resistance to the flow of water. Additionally, by making the nozzle parts of extruded metal, the elements of the nozzle can be staged, allowing for the manufacture of complete nozzles in as few as two components, making it possible for each element to be repaired or replaced without discarding the entire nozzle.

Free Anti-Pollution Booklet Available

A new, free, eight-page illustrated booklet entitled, "The Story of Willie Bacteria, or How to Take Care of your Septic Tank or Cesspool" is now available to owners of septic tanks and cesspools from Fowler and Keith Hardware Co., 104 Smith Ave., Kingston and Singer and Denman Lumber Corp., Route 28, Boiceville.

In a light vein, illustrated by cartoons, the booklet explains the workings of the septic tank and cesspool in simplified fashion. It describes the bacterial action of the disposal system and what is necessary for its proper functioning.

Chief attraction in the booklet is a humanized "Willie Bacteria" who is responsible for maintaining the efficiency of the disposal system. When the septic tank or cesspool user ignores the fact that "Willie" is working to keep the disposal system free from disease, and saturates him with an overdose of detergents, acids, lyes,

Home Builders to Meet

America's biggest school for professional home and apartment builders — the annual Convention Exposition of the National Association of Home Builders — will be held Jan. 20-24 in Houston, Tex.

The event, 30th in NAHB's history, will feature 63 educational programs and an array of some 500 exhibits of new building products and services. The theme for the show is "Building a Better America with Research, Education and Service."

"With the many problems facing the housing industry, the home and apartment builder is eager to learn how to surmount them and to find better ways to meet the consumer's housing demands both for now and the future," said George C. Martin, president of the 72,000 member NAHB. "This will be one of our most significant meetings in view of the issues now facing the industry and of the challenges ahead."

Among the educational programs, emphasis will be on the financial issues so crucial to the industry at this time. Several key programs will evaluate alternative methods of financing and explore new sources of capital. Government policy-makers will be on hand to present the details of Federal money programs.

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen of New York will address a special assembly of the builders Jan. 22. Bishop Sheen is well known for his award-winning network television series during the '50s and as the author of several best-selling books.

Early reservations are suggested with indications that attendance will top the 58,000 mark.

VOTERS OF THE TOWN OF OLIVE VOTE FOR THE CANDIDATES WHO Are Dedicated to Serve You and WILL GET THE JOB DONE!

Genese A. Gavin

GENESE A. GAVIN — For Tax Collector — 2 Years

A resident of Town of Olive, prior to that a resident of Woodstock for 20 years. Graduated from Kingston High School and attended Elmhurst College, Ill. Employed by the National Bank of Orange & Ulster Counties, Woodstock, for 9 years as manager of the Loan & Mortgage department. Board member and Treasurer of the Ulster County S.P.C.A. Member of the Olive American Legion Auxiliary. Husband Grant, and 3 children.

Tax Collector

1. Collects property taxes
2. Keeps accurate record and records all taxes paid
3. Turns over the taxes to the proper town and county authorities
4. Taxes are collected during the month of January without penalty. Penalty is increased according to scale for late payment from February 1 to August 1.
5. All tax records are turned over to the County Treasurer in August.

Terrence E. Carle

TERENCE C. CARLE — For Tax Assessor — 2 Years

A lifelong resident of the Town of Olive. Attended Ontario Central Schools graduated from Brown University, B.A. Degree in Political Science. Legally employed in title searching and other areas related to real property law. A licensed real estate salesman. Employed part-time Ulster County Sheriff's Department while in college, completed New York State Municipal Police Training School. Now serving Olive's residents as a Town Constable. Member of the Olive Fire Department and the Ashokan United Methodist Church. Public service is a family tradition; his father and grandfather having served the Town as Supervisors.

We feel his interest, energy, and youth will enable him to serve you well as your assessor.

Tax Assessors

Town tax assessors are required to investigate, approve and record the following:

1. Old Age exemptions
2. Veterans' and clergymen's exemptions
3. Damage to livestock and poultry by dogs
4. Record all changes in real estate and assess same for taxes

The work load of the assessors is increasing in scope, requiring more skill in inventoring, assessing, researching deeds and properly recording the findings to complete the history of each parcel of land. With data processing all records are key punched on cards requiring greater accuracy by the assessor in the making and establishing of the tax rolls.

The New York State Board of Equalization now requires all members of the Town Assessment Boards to attend lectures and workshops set up and paid for by the State assuring fair and accurate assessing of all types of properties.

James E. Clemens

INCUMBENT JAMES A. CLEMENS — For Tax Assessor — 4 Years

Jim has served as your assessor for the past 14 years. Graduated from Fordham Prep School and attended Pratt Institute of Electrical Engineering. 20 years experience in resident and industrial construction. Republican Committeeman for 14 years. Member of the New York State Tax Assessors Association. Past Commander of the American Legion Post No. 1627 (Olive) and Past Commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 9595 (Olive). Member of Olive Fire Department.

We feel he is well qualified to fill this office.

NEW HALF-GALLON BOTTLE OF COCA-COLA. ONE OF THE BIGGEST SOFT DRINK VALUES SINCE 1902.

64 ounces of Coke at less than a penny per ounce.

All over the New York area, in bodegas, supermarkets, delis and beverage centers people are discovering that Coke is now in the new 64-ounce half-gallon bottle. Way back in 1902, Coca-Cola was selling for less than a penny an ounce. Now the biggest bottle of Coke ever is still selling for less than a penny an ounce.

Coca-Cola. It's the real thing. In the world of quality and in the world of value.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices moved lower again today, as investors continued to take profits from the market's strong rally earlier this autumn.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down almost a point at the opening and declining issues took a broad lead over advancing ones in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

RR Exhibition Opening Nov. 2

KINGSTON

The annual model railroad exhibition sponsored by the Kingston Model Railroad Club at its clubhouse, 541 Broadway, will open Nov. 2.

A total of 36 years is involved in the building and operation of the Hudson Valley Lines, quarter-inch miniature railroad system of the local model engineers.

Located next to the former West Shore freight house, the model exhibition can be reached by automobile down Pine Grove Avenue to Susan Street and the club, where parking is available.

The model railroad will operate Friday and Saturday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. on November 2, 3, 9, 10, and on the two Sundays, November 4 and 11, from 2:30 to 9 p.m.

Club President, Claude Williams, emphasized that the exhibit of the club railroad is not a toy in any sense of the word. It is a complete scale model developed over the years and presenting not only all types of railroad rolling stock, both antique and modern, but a complete countryside through which a railroad would operate.

Book Fair Hours Set

TILLSON

Hours have been announced for the Tillson Student Book Fair, sponsored by the PTO on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 5-6-7.

The fair will be open all three days from 11 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. In addition, the fair will be open from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday.

The PTO Book Fair Committee has invited all students, parents, and visitors to attend the fair. Books will be on display on the stage of the Tillson Elementary School.

Included will be attractive new books from many publishers in several popular price ranges, as well as a selection of stationery.

Mrs. Toby Eisman, Book Fair chairman, said the fair is designed to encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project.

Membership Drive Set

KINGSTON

A bid for new members will be made at the next meeting of the Kingston Camera Club to be held Tuesday, Nov. 13 at the community room of the Heritage Savings Bank, Wall Street, starting 7:30 p.m.

There will be a showing of the entries in a Slide of the Year contest, an open discussion period and the results of the club's participation in the October Inter-Club competition.

Kingston Camera Club is a member of the Photographic Society of America and through the affiliation obtains many interesting slide programs.

Members submit slides to be entered in International Club slide competitions. Award winning slides are eligible for entry in the Slide of the Year contest.

Presently the club is doing only color slides but will go into pictorial print work again if interest warrants it. All interested persons may attend the meeting.

Saturday Event In Boiceville

BOICEVILLE

Exhibitions and demonstrations by local craftsmen and artists will highlight the second annual "Ye Olde Towne Fair," to be held Saturday, Nov. 3, at the Bennett Elementary School in Boiceville.

A ski and skate swap shop, attic antiques, movies for children, and refreshments will be featured from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The sponsoring Bennett PTA hopes to involve more people from Ontario and the surrounding areas in this community-wide event, and to make it an enjoyable day for the entire family.

Film Scheduled

A parents group concerned with learning disabilities, CHILDS, will present a film entitled "Early Recognition of Learning Disabilities" Monday, Nov. 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Middle School Library, in New Paltz.

Asian Studies Conference Slated at New Paltz

NEW PALTZ — The State University College at New Paltz will play host to the 1973 Upstate New York Conference on Asian Studies Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17, according to an announcement today by Professor C. Lawrence Huang, program chairman.

Dr. Huang, a member of the Department of Asian Studies at New Paltz, said the conference would be attended by scholars and students in the humanities and social sciences from all over the state. Several participants on the program will come from New York City and other parts of the country, he added.

An Asian Cultural Weekend featuring music, dance, workshops and talks will be held Nov. 16-18 in conjunction with the conference. These events are sponsored by the East-West Union, a student service organization at SUNY New Paltz.

Highlights of the conference program are an address by U Nu, former prime minister of Burma, on Buddhism and the Modern World, and a talk on Acupuncture: From Philosophy to Physiology by Dr. Frederick F. Kao, professor of physiology at the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn and president of the American Society of Chinese Medicine.

The topics of other conference sessions include Japanese trading companies, women in Asian societies, international politics in Asia, literature, education, economic development and the performing arts. A typical session will consist of the reading of several papers by scholars, followed by discussion.

The cultural events include a performance of Indian classical music by a group led by Vasant Rai, at 8:30 p.m., Nov. 16 in Room 100 of the Lecture Center; performances of Chinese, Korean and Japanese dance, at 8:15 p.m., Nov. 17, following a dinner in the Multipurpose Room of the Student Union Building; and a demonstration of Asian martial arts at 1 p.m., Nov. 18, also in the Multipurpose Room.

Cultural workshops and demonstrations scheduled for Saturday will cover Indian music, Chinese and Japanese calligraphy, batik making, Asian-American awareness, and Indian fabrics and costumes.

Kiwanis Kapers Music Set

KINGSTON — The well-known Papa Bear Band will provide music for the 1973 version of the Kingston Kiwanis Club's annual Kapers Show scheduled the nights of Nov. 1, 2 and 3 at the Kingston High School auditorium.

The show is entitled, "TV or Not TV?" or "Howdy Doody Is Alive and Well and Living in Kingston, N.Y." The Kapers have been staged annually for 29 years by the club to raise funds for its scholarship program and youth work.

The band leader, Ed Kirschner, known as Papa Bear, formerly was an arranger and instrumentalist in the Sun Valley Orchestra for 14 years. Previously, he was head of the arranging department of the 364th A.S.F. Band, the official band of the Ninth Service Command. He played tuba, piano and accordion with this band besides preparing and writing and arranging the music for the Army Radio Show, "Eyes Right."

The drummer of the group is Howard Smith, who is retired from the CBS Studios. He played with many big name groups including the Ed Sullivan Show Band, Les Brown and Andre Kestelant Bands.

Playing trumpet, fluegel horn, bass viola and tuba and fender bass will be Ronald Westervelt, who teaches in the Music Department of the Ontario School System.

Don De Puy will play the bass, tuba and fender bass in the band. An excellent musician, he formerly played with the West Point Band.

The trombone player is Harry Castiglione, president emeritus of Local 215 of the Kingston Musicians Association. He formerly was director of the old East Kingston Band and presently directs the Kingston Marching Band.

TOASTMASTER AWARD — Al Rossman (L) receives Kingston Toastmaster award from Gene Merigliano, toastmaster of the evening at a recent meeting of the organization. At that meeting Kingston Toastmasters voted unanimously to admit women to membership. Anyone interested in joining may contact the Ulster County Chamber of Commerce for further information. The next meeting will be held 7 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 1 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Poll Reflects Student Views

Local government is a somewhat smaller than at present, with the greatest number desiring a board comprised of 15 to 20 members.

The poll reflected in general the results of questionnaires taken over the past two or three years and "seemed to reflect surveys taken by other groups in Dutchess County," according to Edgar Krissler, director.

Practically no one given the questionnaire had any real understanding of the recent reapportionment of the Board of Representatives, "in spite of thorough and continuous coverage given the matter by the press," he said.

A total of 81 students said they do not understand what the reapportionment situation is all about, while only five said they understood the matter.

Most students favored a board their cars for clean air.

Philatelic Society Elections Slated

FREEDOM PLAINS The Ferrary Philatelic Society of Dutchess County will meet Friday, Nov. 2 at the teacher's cafeteria, Arlington High School, Route 55, at 8 p.m.

The program will include a colored slide exhibit entitled SPA Philatelic Quiz prepared by Virginia Fisher, Jacqueline Vidourek and Clifford Shafer.

Nomination of officers for the Nov. 16 election will be offered by the nominating committee consisting of Robert Wise, Leonard Karstadt and John Vandenburg.

A mini-auction of stamps, plate blocks and first day covers also will take place.

Collectors in the Mid-Hudson Valley area are invited to attend. There will be no admission. Information on membership and a free copy of the society's bulletin may be obtained by contacting Gustav Detjen, Clinton Corners.

Upstate Theatre... November Schedule

RHINEBECK An abbreviated November schedule at Upstate Films Theatre will feature four films, two with a touch of horror.

"Invasion of the Body Snatchers" (1956) runs Nov. 1-4 with Dana Wynter and Kevin McCarthy starring in a fantasy of alien beings that take over bodies after sapping their wills.

And the month concludes Nov. 29-Dec. 2 with "Nightmare Alley" (1947). Tyrone Power and Joan Blondell star in this film about a carnival drifter who crosses everybody on his way to success as a big time spiritualist.

In between "The Lady Killers" (1955) brings Alec Guinness and Peter Sellers to the screen as part of a strange crew of bank robbers in a well-played British comedy Nov. 8-11.

And prior to the Thanksgiving holidays, Mae West arrives in "I'm No Angel" (1933) Nov. 15-18. She wrote the screenplay and provided herself with an entertaining vehicle to put down the double standard in any form. It was considered quite racy for the time.

Mid-Hudson Colleges Meet

MILLBROOK Colleges are: Warren Goodell of Marymount, and Natalie Casey, students and publishing a joint calendar of events. The first meeting of the board of trustees of the recently enlarged Associated Colleges of the Mid-Hudson Area is scheduled for Nov. 2 at the Pace University Westchester campus.

Presiding over the meeting of heads of colleges and universities from a seven-county area will be the organization's new president, Dr. J. William Nystrom of Bennett College, Millbrook.

The original Associated Colleges, including institutions in Dutchess, Orange and Ulster Counties, has been joined by the southern counties to form an organization of 25 colleges and universities stretching from the outskirts of the New York metropolitan area to the Kingston area.

The association operates as two separate divisions with its executive director Robert Vivona operating out of offices in Poughkeepsie and Pleasantville.

Highlight of Friday's meeting will be an address by Dr. William Fuller, Assistant Commissioner of Higher Education for Planning of the New York State Department of Education.

Other officers of Associated Pace Westchester, vice-Dominican. In the past, the Association has sponsored such programs as a joint music program with the SUNY New Paltz, secretary, planning studies for the use of computers, providing higher education for disadvantaged students of member institutions.

Family Court JUDGES

RE-ELECT

Hon. Hugh R. Elwyn

The following are excerpts from two letters received by Judge Elwyn's office from a local Junior High School Principal:

"This morning I appeared in your Court in the matter of _____ Junior High School and 'John Doe'.

"The purpose of this letter is to express my sincere and deep appreciation for your compassion and understanding in the handling of this case.

"It became evident as I sat in your Court, that you had a true and deep concern for the solution of this boy's problem. I could not help but admire your action in this case. As one who has handled countless disciplinary problems at the public school level, I feel I may have a little understanding of some of the situations you must face.

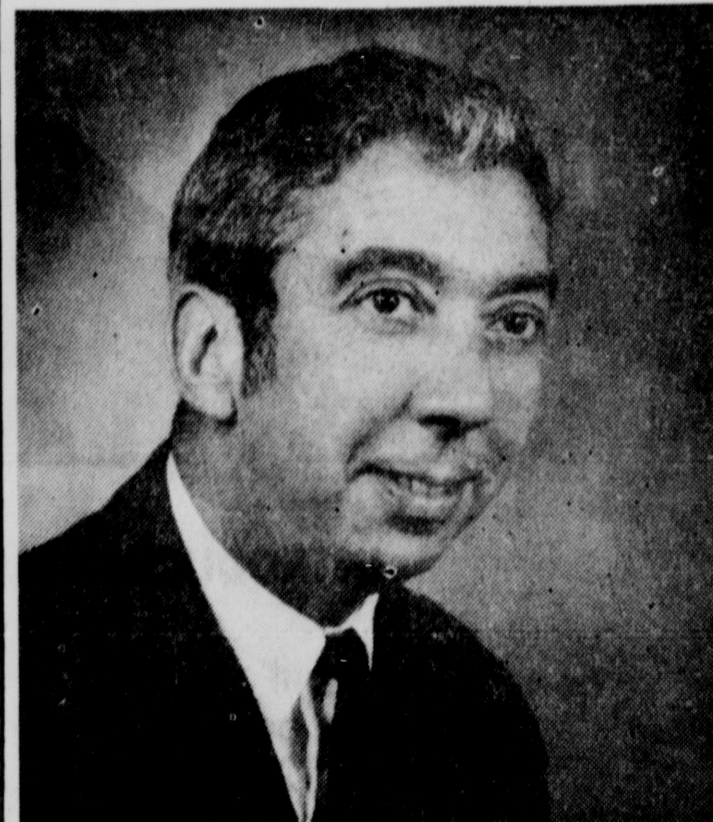

"I left your Court with a deep feeling of satisfaction. Again, please accept my thanks for your efforts.

"After leaving your Court, both 'John Doe's' mother and aunt expressed to me admiration for your judgement."

And from a follow-up letter concerning the same case:

"I am most pleased to report that 'John' has been attending school regularly since opening day this term. He is cheerful and cooperative. I could not be more pleased with the 'turn-about' in his attitude."

Paid for by Ulster Co. Republican Committee

KINGSTON VOTERS!

Just as the Democrats had their Teapot Dome scandal, so have the Republicans their Watergate — both dismal connivances conceived by Politicians! And so, not until AFTER the 1972 election, did the Politicians FIRST reveal the tentative 1973 Ulster County budget, wherein their sorry attempt to not only raise their town legislative salaries by some 60%, but also the salaries of their political cohorts on the County payroll, was first unearthed and discovered!

Remember Who Stopped Them?

Like your current tax Bills? How about that well publicized "Revenue Sharing" that was supposed to ease the taxpayers' burdens, but instead has become a "Plum Pie" for the legislators, so deeply buried that even the Washington "plumbers" would be unable to reach it! Seen the tentative 1974 county budget yet, or heard any "leaks" from it? You won't, either, until after election!

Remember—the Politicians will have their Party "machine vote" for their support!

Reaction to 'Letter' Disappoints Trustees

KINGSTON The library board sent a letter to the candidates asking them to take a stand on the library's future, but Democrats and Republicans separately agreed not to respond to the letter until after Election Day.

In a statement released today, the trustees said: "The Board's purpose in sending the letter was to try to get some idea response, or lack of them, in the hands of publicly elected officials. Indeed, both mayoral candidates have discussed the firm commitment to the library's plight during the present campaign. Our ultimate objective is, and always has been, to provide a good library for the people of the Kingston area. Ap- parently many of the candidates in the hands of the Finance, Ways and Means Committee in the near future. We hope this effort and expense will not be without result."

"The letter from the Library is being ignored. The Library itself has been ignored for years. But we cannot ignore the fact that 17 windows were broken at the Children's Library last month; we cannot ignore the fact that people coming to use the Library have no place to park their cars. Response to our letter is unimportant; the response to these problems is urgent."

LAP ROBES DONATED — Herb Poppel, hospital chairman of the Kerhonkson VFW Post 3059, accepts several of 15 lap robes for use at the Castle Point Veterans Hospital. The lap robes were made by the Accord-Kerhonkson Senior Citizens Club; Mrs. Deyo alone has made 50 in the past year. The senior citizens also made eight cosmetic bags that will be given to women veterans at the Castle Point hospital.

CBA Hears Mayor, Planner on Traffic

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON Relief of traffic congestion on Broadway is two, maybe five years away, Mayor Francis R. Koenig and City Planner Robert E. Pritchard told a special meeting of the Central Broadway Businessmen's Association at Scholard's on Tuesday night.

Koenig and Pritchard, with Pritchard doing most of the talking, outlined the city's plans to apply for federal funds for a traffic-engineering study of the Broadway Corridor either through the Federal Aid to Urban Systems program or through TOPICS (Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety).

Koenig, who spoke first, gave the impression that help from the federal government was just around the corner, but after a number of questions from the audience of about 20 persons it became apparent that Kingstonians will have to live with traffic jams on Broadway for some time to come.

TOPICS, according to Pritchard, is being implemented in Westchester County and won't get this far north for "two or three years." The Federal Aid to Urban Systems was funded only this past August and requires each state to compile a study of all its urban traffic problems before any money will be made available.

However, the city, through its planner, will continue the work on the problem. Pritchard said he has been in contact with traffic engineers from the state Department of Transportation who under a state program, the Community Assistance Program, will aid the city in drawing up a plan to submit to the federal government for study.

What the city apparently has in mind is to move traffic by providing for at least a 60-foot width on Broadway which would result in four traffic lanes, two in each direction with parking on each side of the street. The study would also review existing signalization along Broadway's one-mile length from Delaware Avenue to Albany Avenue.

While the mayor and the city planner came to talk about traffic studies, a number of other subjects were raised by the audience.

The businessmen still haven't given up on the idea of a major shopping plaza in Central Broadway, although there was mixed opinion on whether such a complex would help or hinder existing businesses.

Mayor Koenig, speaking of improvements in the area, said the question of "derelicts" on about police protection. One merchant said a thief entered his store two weeks ago by force described those persons as throwing a cement block through a plate glass window.

He said that an officer in a patrol car responding to the alarm said there were no foot patrols in the area. Koenig said that some merchants gave that Police Chief Julius Glass man would meet with the merchants on the subject of police protection.

Marine Grants

KINGSTON — Sgt. Fred Ellis, the local Marine representative in Kingston, has announced that the NRCTC Navy-Marine Scholarship program for the fall of 1974 is open for applications until Thursday.

Each year, the Marine Corps selects approximately 250 seniors to receive Marine-option NROTC scholarships which can be used at any of the 54 colleges and universities where NROTC units are located.

The scholarship, awarded annually by a board of officers at headquarters Marine Corps, covers the cost of four years of college and provides a $100 per month compensation. Upon graduation, selectees receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

In addition to the Nov. 1 deadline, each applicant must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test by Nov. 3, or the American College Test by Oct. 20. Test scores are necessary to determine finalists.

Further information on the Marine Corps' scholarship opportunities is available by contacting Sgt. Ellis.

New Bridge Links Europe and Asia by Road

THE BOSPORNS BRIDGE

(UPI TELEPHOTO)

ISTANBUL (UPI) — A ship of a ribbon which officially opened the 3,222-foot span of concrete and steel of the Bosphorus Bridge linked Europe and Asia by road today for the first time in 2,485 years.

Turkish President Fahri Koruturk cut the ribbon opening the bridge on the second day of modern Turkey's 50th anniversary celebrations. The bridge linked the two continents by road for the first time since Darius of Persia built pontoon bridges across the strait in 512 B.C.

The bridge, built by a British-German consortium with consultations with an Italian firm, has six lanes and will carry up to five million vehicles per year between Europe and Asia.

Construction began on Feb. 20, 1970 and was completed in 1,345 work days. Its cost was put at $150 million.

The bridge is the fourth largest in the world and the largest suspension bridge in Europe. The foundations were sunk 50 feet below sea level upon which steel towers 540 feet tall were built and from which steel cables hold the 3,222-foot bridge.

The ceremony opening the bridge started with folk dances and included speeches by Mayor Fahri Atabey and Prime Minister Naim Talu.

A crowd estimated by police at one million lined the banks on both sides of the Bosphorus to watch the ceremonies. Police reported some injuries to crowds pressing around the entrance to the bridge to watch the ribbon cutting.

A list of dignitaries attended the ceremony and walked across the bridge from Asia to Europe.

Gloomy Forecast on State Energy

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Residents of New York City, Long Island and the lower Hudson Valley will be paying as much as 26 per cent more for their electricity by January because of the Arab oil embargo.

That assessment was made by state Public Service Commission Chairman Joseph C. Swidler in a weekly power report to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on Monday.

Even as that gloomy forecast was being issued, the PSC chairman was appealing to a state Senate committee for more authority to impose an allocation system for gas and electricity in the event of energy emergencies.

The power report said customers of Consolidated Edison Co., which serves New York City and Westchester, could expect a 5.4 per cent increase in the monthly bill by January. Long Island Lighting Co. bills should go up by 9.8 per cent and Orange & Rockland Utilities' bills by 26.1 per cent.

Swidler said the reduction in oil flow from the Arab states in North Africa and the Middle East is having a particularly detrimental effect on southern New York because the three utilities depend heavily on Arab oil.

Consolidated Edison gets about half of its fuel oil for electric-generating plants from the Arab states.

Long Island Lighting about one-third and Orange & Rockland 100 per cent, he said.

The utilities' state-approved rate schedules permit them to pass on the rising cost of fuel directly to the consumer, but the process takes about one or two months, Swidler said.

Rates should begin rising next month or in December, he said. At a public hearing of the Senate Committee on Corporations, Authorities and Public Utilities, Swidler urged adoption of a bill that would spell out the PSC's power to set priorities for energy distribution in emergencies.

The commission chairman said he foresees continued shortages of gas and of fuel oil for power plants over the next 5 to 10 years.

"We strongly urge the legal authority to handle this situation... That's the guts of this bill," he said.

Utility and industry representatives testifying at the hearing objected to the legislation because, they said, it would give the PSC too much unilateral control over electric and gas services.

The present law establishes a state policy of allocation of gas in times of shortages. But Swidler said the reduction in oil flow from the Arab states in North Africa and the Middle East is having a particularly detrimental effect on southern New York because the three utilities depend heavily on Arab oil.

Consolidated Edison gets about half of its fuel oil for electric-generating plants from the Arab states.

ter said some utilities have interpreted the law to mean that new homes should be given preferred treatment over industrial users in such emergencies.

"If the situation were bad enough we would prefer to supply some industrial users rather than new homes," he said.

The proposed law grants specific authority to the PSC to set priorities for the allocation of not just gas, but all utility services, including electricity.

It would also empower the PSC during emergencies to restrict any activity by utilities, such as advertising or other promotional methods, that encourage an increased consumption of their services.

The commission would be the sole judge of what constitutes an "emergency."

The bill would also give the PSC the authority to order utilities to provide gas or electricity to each other when shortages affect only some of the companies.

Currently, such allocations are carried out under individual company guidelines or through voluntary multicompartment arrangements. Swidler contended that the state should not depend on such a voluntary system.

A Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. vice president, Philip D. Raymond, complained that the legislation was too vague and open-ended.

"It appears to grant the commission carte blanche authority to restrict the activity of any utility," he said.

He called for better definitions of the activities that would be subject to PSC control and said clear criteria should be set for judging emergencies.

MRS. GARY S. MILEWSKI
(Carol Ann Manno)

(Lakeside Studio)

Vows Are Exchanged

Miss Carol Ann Manno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manno of Kerhonkson, became the bride of Gary Steven Milewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milewski Sr. of Kerhonkson on Saturday, Oct. 6.

The Rev. John Budwick of New York City officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place in St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bridal satin gown in the empire styling with a long flowing train. Rose, pearl and lace trimming accented the high neckline and matching lace trimmed the full sleeves and cuffs. Lace bordered her full length mantilla and hem of the gown. Mrs. Milewski carried a cascade of white roses and miniature carnations.

Mrs. Carmella Spano of Brooklyn served as matron of honor for her sister. Attendants were Miss Eileen Marchetti, Hurley; Mrs. Barbara Trappani, New Paltz; Miss Irene Hornung, West Hurley; Mrs. Cecelia Manno, sister-in-law of the bride, Brooklyn and the Misses Diana and Loretta Manno, nieces of the bride served as junior bridesmaids. Miss Donna Spano, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Attendants were attired in fall colored crepe gowns, styled with high waists, brown cummerbunds and matching boleros. Their picture hats were crowned in brown satin and they carried baskets of fall colored pompons.

Robert Milewski Jr. of Montana was best man for his brother. Ushers were Sebastian Manno, brother of the bride, Brooklyn; Anthony Spano, brother-in-law of the bride; John Durcan, Kerhonkson; and Kevin and Keith Milewski, brothers of the bridegroom, Thomas

AAUW: All About PREP

After viewing "The Odds Against" an award winning film giving an overview of the systems of penal corrections, the large group present for the October general meeting of the New Paltz Branch of the American Association of University Women engaged in a round-table discussion.

Mrs. John B. Haluska is branch PREP chairman and led the lively question and answer session which culminated with plans to learn more about the subject. The group will also investigate various ways in which the New Paltz AAUW could be of some assistance locally.

PREP stands for Prison Rehabilitation and Education Program. It has been operating a year within AAUW's New York State Division and is action oriented. According to Mrs. Doris M. Seakwood, Division chairman from Eastchester, N.Y., the project so far has provided a necessary starting point for a wide range of prison reform projects by AAUW members across the state.

BPW Hears Ruth Sturm

Miss Ruth F. Sturm was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Northern Dutchess Business & Professional Women's Club held on October 20th at the Beekman Arms.

Miss Sturm is a law assistant to Judge Paul P. Rao of the U.S. Customs Court, N.Y.C. She is listed in

"Who's Who in the East" and "Who's Who of American Women."

She is an honor graduate of Vassar College and received her Bachelor of Laws degree from Columbia University. Prior to her present post assisting Judge Rao, Miss Sturm served as law assistant to a number of other judges of the Customs Court. She belongs to the N.Y. County Lawyers Association and the Federal Bar Association. She was a member of Gov. Rockefeller's Committee on the Education and Employment of Women 1963-64 serving as chairman of the Subcommittee of Law and Civil Service and is a long time member of the BPW. She has served as president of the Tarrytowns Club and on the state level has served as N.Y. State second vice president and first vice president before her election to the office of state president in May 1962. Her topic at the meeting was Parliamentary procedure.

Following the theme of "National Business Women's Week" a former president of the Northern Dutchess BPW and a charter member, Mrs. Eleanor Closs was guest speaker at the Red Hook Lions Club dinner held on October 15th at the Whaleback Inn and her subject was "What BPW Is All About."

At the September meeting, Mrs. Katherine Sardaro of the Red Hook Fabric Shop was installed as a new member—Virginia Webb was Installing Officer.

Chairman Ethel Marshall of the "Hubbub of Fashion" advises that tickets are still available for the November 9th evening fashion show to be held at the Red Hook Central School, Linden Avenue. The public is cordially invited to attend this worthy cause for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund.

Ellenville Hospital Dinner November 18

Reservations are still being taken for the Ellenville Community Hospital Eighth Annual Dinner Dance to be held Sunday, Nov. 18, at Homowack Lodge. The $100 a couple gala social event is held each year to enable the hospital to purchase needed new equipment and sustain additional hospital services.

"It's always a great party," said Arthur C. Chipp and Leo Rosick, co-chairmen for the event. "Everyone who attends really gets more than their money's worth plus the satisfaction of knowing that the hospital is getting the money to help sustain its operation."

"Many people have attended each of the seven previously held, and we expect them again this year", the chairmen noted, "but each year there are new faces — people who have come to recognize their responsibility to the hospital, because of the health care service it provides."

Reservations may be made by contacting the chairmen, any member of the hospital Board of Directors, or Mr. Koefoed at the hospital.

Subject Was Yoga For Homemakers

The October meeting of the Sawyer Homemakers was held recently at St. Mary of the Snow Parish Hall. Mrs. Edward Montano and Mrs. John Welton presented the program for the evening, which included a demonstration and participation in the discipline of Yoga. In keeping with the spirit of the program, Mrs. Montano and Mrs. Welton served organic and natural food refreshments, including a special health food dessert, with exotic teas.

Chairman Mrs. Peter Somervell announced the Sawyer Homemakers had been awarded first place at the recent Ulster County Cooperative Extension's Christmas Open House for their booth, "Fun With Felt." A note of appreciation was extended to the committee responsible for setting up the display: Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. George Leombruno, Mrs. Larry Rittmiller, and Mrs. Holcombe Tomson.

Christmas craft ideas were discussed and several workshop meetings will be scheduled for these Christmas projects: construction of pine cone wreaths under the direction of Mrs. John Vozdik; candle sconces to be taught by Mrs. Robert Varrell; and tin ornaments, with Mrs. John Welton and Mrs. Edward Montano giving the instructions.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Rose Praetorius, Mrs. Marge Bishop, and Mrs. John Dooley.

The next meeting will be held on November 15 at the home of Mrs. Robert Martin.

Doctor Develops Home Treatment that

RINSES AWAY BLACKHEADS
Help Dry Up ACNE-PIMPLES...

QUEEN HELENE MINT JULEP MASQUE
MUST SHOW IMMEDIATE IMPROVEMENT — OR YOUR MONEY BACK

A leading New York Doctor, working with a cosmetic laboratory, has developed a simple home treatment that rinses away blackheads, helps dry up acne pimples, and shrinks enlarged pores. The name of this medicated product is QUEEN HELENE MINT JULEP MASQUE. Apply this delightfully Mint-Scented Cream and within 2 or 3 minutes an absorbing agent called Argilla, dries and turns this cream into a plastic-like masque. You will now feel as though hundreds of "tiny fingers" are kneading the skin, loosening pore-caked dirt, blackheads and other foreign impurities. As if firms and hardens, its suction action draws out waste matter from the pores. . . . In 15 minutes you simply rinse the masque away with lukewarm water which dissolves it immediately. When you wipe your face, you can see that blackheads and other pore "filler" actually comes off on your wash cloth. And your skin feels clean . . . really clean . . . refreshed, smooth like velvet. Women 35 and over will enjoy the skin tightening experience as the masque relaxes tired facial muscles and eases tension lines on face and throat. If you suffer the agony of blackheads, acne-pimples, and enlarged pores, give yourself this home treatment and see the breath-taking results. Ask for it by name QUEEN HELENE MINT JULEP MASQUE.

Dear Abby

Minister Gives Thanks For Defending Lifestyle

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I want to express my gratitude to you for having the courage to repeat your statement that homosexuality is NOT a "sickness."

I am the director of Adult Ministries for the United Methodist Church in the Hawaii district, and am long past the age when I might appeal sexually to either a female or another male.

Abby, you put to shame some of my so-called "fellow Christians," who have so completely forgotten the teachings of Jesus, that they would deny God's love and compassion for the millions of people who live a lifestyle different from their own.

Thank you, Abby. Whether you believe in Jesus or not, his love shines on you when you write such columns.

FRED R. METHERED
MY DEAR REV. METHERED: Thanks. I needed that!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who has just started to date. I don't go steady with any one guy, but there is one I see more of than the others. I like him a lot, but this dude's hands are quicker than the eye and if I let him kiss me, before I know it, his hands are all over me.

How do I handle such an aggressive guy?

CAREFUL
DEAR CAREFUL: When he gets busy with his hands, tell him to cut it out. And if he doesn't, get busy with your foot, and kick him out.

DEAR ABBY: About the girl who wanted to have her nose pierced over her parents' objections: I say, let her! It isn't painful, and if it is properly done, no infection should result.

I spent two years in India on an assignment, and while I was there I had my nose pierced in order to wear a small gold ring in it. It is the custom for women and girls in India.

After I returned to the States, wearing the ring in my nose, I was the object of curious stares and many rude remarks, so I removed it. However, I still have the tiny hole in my nose, and will wear the ring in it if it ever becomes the fad or fashion here.

HOLE IN MY NOSE IN LONG BEACH

DEAR HOLE: Of course, one never knows, but I doubt if nose rings will ever catch on in the States.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (I'll call him "T") took his life and left me with three minor children. Before "T" was buried, the vultures moved in to pick the bones.

A friend called the morning of the funeral and said if I planned to sell the house to please give him a chance to bid on it.

At the funeral parlor, another "friend" asked me what I was going to do with T's gun collection. Imagine the insensitivity of this man, knowing my husband killed himself with a gun!

It's been only a week and I have had offers for everything from his clothes to his garden tools.

Thanks for letting me get this off my chest. I was ready to explode. I don't have to sign my name. Everybody in town knows who I am.

BEREAVED

CONFIDENTIAL TO "23676" in the Missouri State Penitentiary, Jefferson City: I have faith in you. Please don't let me down!

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Classes starting in November at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, have been announced. These will include Mixed Media, Sociology of Women, Fiction and Poetry Writing, Cake and Food Decorating, and Chess for Beginners in addition to the list of current popular courses. New locations have been added also. For the first time, classes have been scheduled at the Woodstock School and West Hurley School.

The following classes have been scheduled for six week sessions.

MIXED MEDIA WORKSHOP, 9:30, Mondays starting Nov. 5. This course will allow the student to use all types of media to combine them in one finished work. Elin Menzies, former commercial artist, will be instructor in this form of experimental art.

SOCIOLOGY OF WOMEN, 10:30 Tuesdays starting Nov. 6. Ruth Jacobs, Coordinator of Women's Studies at New Paltz College and instructor in Sociology, will examine the socio-psychological and structural roots of women's role in American society. Sex role discrimination is linked to patterns of socialization, sexuality, class and race. The course also includes an analysis of the origins, development and ideology of the women's movement.

FICTION AND POETRY WORKSHOP, 7:30 Tuesdays starting Nov. 6 at the Woodstock School. The writer's workshop is intended for those people with an interest in writing the short story and possible longer works. It will be helpful if the student has had some previous practice in trying to write inventively. Fiction will be emphasized, but attention will be paid to the use of one's personal experience in crafting imaginative prose. Instructor will be writer Ivan Gold. Mr. Gold has taught creative writing classes and is the recipient of several awards and fellowships.

CAKE AND FOOD DECORATING, 8 p.m. Wednesdays starting Nov. 7. Noble Masi, chef and instructor at the Culinary Institute of America, will be teaching the class. Mr. Masi will spend four sessions on Cake Decorating and two on Food and Vegetable Decorating.

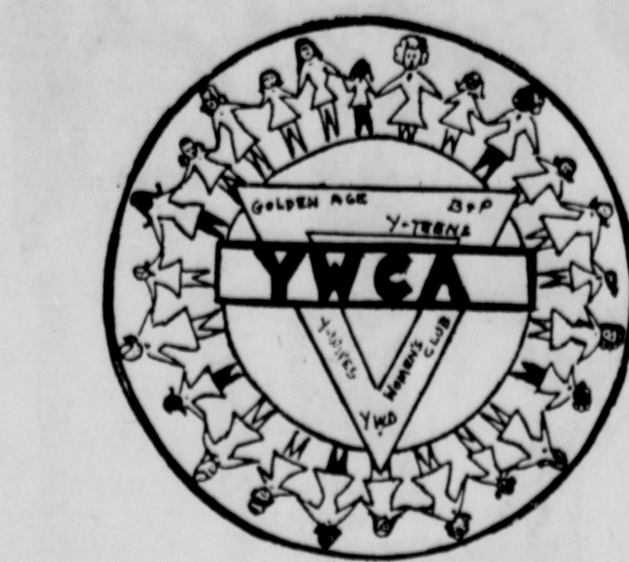

CHESS FOR BEGINNERS, 7 p.m. Fridays starting Nov. 9. The course will cover the fundamental rules of chess and chess strategy. Instructor in this popular game will be William Brooks, member of the U.S. Chess Federation. Students are requested to bring their own sets and boards.

MONDAY MORNING EXERCISES, 9:30 a.m. Mondays starting Nov. 5. Mrs. Fred Port will be instructor in this class. A variety of exercises will be presented.

BEGINNING BRIDGE, 7:30 p.m. Mondays starting Nov. 19.

INTERMEDIATE AND REFRESHER BRIDGE, 7:30 Wednesdays starting Nov. 28. The basics of bridge will be taught in the Beginning Class. The Wednesday class will give students a chance to brush up their game. Mrs. C. Russell Edwards is the instructor.

RELAXATION AND MEDITATION, 8 p.m. Mondays starting Nov. 5, at YWCA, 8 p.m. Wednesday starting Nov. 14 at the West Hurley School.

An easy-to-understand introduction of mind and body relaxation for men and women who are too keyed up by modern life. For compulsive worriers, insomniacs, people who get tension headaches, and who cannot slow down and relax. The instructor is writer Bob Burg. BEGINNING SEWING, 9:30 Tuesdays starting Nov. 6. INTERMEDIATE SEWING, 9:30 Thursdays starting Nov.

1. Diana VanCampenhout, instructor, is experienced in custom sewing. Great opportunity to learn to put your sewing machine to good use.

SKETCH, 10 a.m. Tuesdays starting Nov. 20. Artists have the opportunity to work under Miss Emily D. B. Hoysradt. This popular class has a waiting list.

NEEDLECRAFT, 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays starting Nov. 6. Beginning and advanced students will be accommodated. Individual projects are selected by the student. Possibilities are crocheting, crewel, knitting, needlepoint, hook-rug. Instructor is Jeanne Keator of the Sit 'n Knit Shop, Hurley.

ART WORKSHOP, 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays starting Nov. 6. Beginning and experienced students are welcome to work in oils, acrylics or charcoal. Alice Rhoades, instructor, has been an art teacher for many years.

WATER COLOR, 12:30 Wednesdays starting Nov. 7. This class will be open to beginners and to those who have a basic knowledge of water color. Jane Neroni, instructor has taught in New York City and the YWCA for many years.

CRAFTS, 7:30 p.m. Thursdays starting Nov. 8. Six different projects will be completed in the six week session. Instructor Veronica Price has taught arts and crafts in the Newburgh schools.

VOLLEYBALL, 7:30 Thursdays at the Brigham School. New registrants are always welcome to the volleyball group which will be continuing under Gail Widholm.

SOCIAL DANCE, 7:30 Fridays starting Nov. 30. This is a class for beginners and those who want to learn new steps. Audrey Shultis, the instructor, will make provisions for those who have had the course and wish to continue.

BEGINNING GUITAR, 7:30 Mondays starting Nov. 5 at the West Hurley School.

BEGINNING GUITAR II, 10 a.m. Saturdays starting Nov. 10 at YWCA. Instruction will be given by Bob Lusk currently studying at SUNY, New Paltz.

PIANO FOR CHILDREN, 10 a.m. Saturdays. A session is now in progress. Second session will start in December. Carol Ann Kuhnle, instructor, is a music teacher.

Membership is required for all classes at the YWCA. More information may be obtained by contacting the YW office. Drop-in-Play School is available for a nominal fee Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, 9:30 to 12 and Wednesday, 12:30 to 3.

"EMERAUDE" Slick, lustrous pile you'll love for years to come. Keeps its rich beauty through rough wear. Brilliant two-tone colors. Jute back. Regular $7.99 sq. yd. 6⁴⁹ sq. yd.

"NEWLOVE" The problems of active living are no match for Love. Bouncy Kodel III • polyester pile stands up to the most crushing situations. 14 colors. Regular $9.99 sq. yd. 7⁴⁹ sq. yd.

"FANTASY" This carpet is actually dyed by two different processes to attain the unique color mix. Some of the two-ply yarns are thick and loosely twisted, some are thin and tightly twisted...the results in textured variation and more bounce to the pile. Resists soil...most spills just wipe up. Jute back. Regular $13.99 sq. yd. 9⁹⁹ sq. yd.

"DIANA" One of the most exciting new carpet looks we've seen in years. Rugged, continuous yarn resists shedding. Low-loop tight yarn blended with high-loop plumb yarn that subtly sheared. Jute back. Regular $7.49 sq. yd. 5⁹⁹ sq. yd.

"KING'S BOW" Bold, rich colors form subtle patterns. Looped and slightly sheared solids and tweeds. Crush resistant, long wearing pile. Most spills wipe right up. Jute back. Regular $9.99 sq. yd. 7⁴⁹ sq. yd.

"ROUGH N' READY" Tough Olefin pile is so tightly looped, dirt and spills virtually can't dig in. Naturally anti-static so you'll never be bothered by shocks. Wears and wears without giving up its handsome looks. Regular $6.99 sq. yd. 5⁹⁹ sq. yd.

"FOOTLIGHTS" So densely tufted spills float on the surface. So durable it wears and wears even around kids and in heavy traffic. Continuous yarn pile means there's no shedding. Foam backing, just trim to fit with a carpet knife. Regular $9.99 sq. yd. 7⁴⁹ sq. yd.

Seaver Captures 'A Big One'

NEW YORK (UPI) — The earned run average, outpooled pitching staff and helped give hold a 2-0 lead in the third and walked just 64 batters, said he "kind of expected" Seaver would capture the award.

"I'd been hoping for it," Bryant said. "But Seaver's definitely a reasonable choice. He had a good year."

Seaver thus becomes the fourth man in major league history to win the award more than once. Sandy Koufax was a three-time winner (1963, 65 and 66), when there was only a single award for both leagues. Bob Gibson won it twice in 1968 and 1970, and Denny McLain was the American League winner in 1968 and 1969.

"Sandy Koufax won the award three times and I've won it twice and have a chance to win it a third time," said Seaver. "I hope I can pitch until I'm 35. When I started I told my wife I'd be happy with five years in the big leagues. Things were different then when I broke in. Now I'm a winning pitcher."

TERRIFIC! — Mets' ace Tom Seaver is a most happy fellow Tuesday after winning the National League Cy Young Award as top pitcher in 1973. Seaver also won in 1969. Seaver's credentials include a 19-10 record, and league-leading 2.07 ERA and 251 strikeouts. (UPI)

Is Tom Really That Terrific?

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Charlie Finley gives the world a break, decides he'll take a rest for one day, so guess who goes and stirs up another controversy? Tom Seaver.

He does it without even really trying. The Mets' clean-cut right-hander doesn't say anything wrong, do anything wrong or even help smuggle anybody on the disabled list. Still, he gets this new controversy going beautifully anyway, and when you get right down to it, his only sin is being named the National League Cy Young Award winner for the second time.

This is the award bestowed annually by the Baseball Writers' Association of America upon the individual they vote the outstanding pitcher in the league. No sooner had the result been made official Tuesday when it immediately produced two diametric factions. "Tom Seaver won it? No surprise. He's the best there is, isn't he?" That was from one group. The bleat from the second was altogether different. "You mean to say they gave it to Seaver? My God, how could they possibly do that? He didn't even win 20 games!"

True enough. Tom Seaver won only 19 games for the Mets this year, plus the final and deciding playoff game with Cincinnati, but that doesn't count except at the bank.

What does count is that Tom Seaver pitched 290 innings, which was pretty close to the most in the league, struck out 251 batters, the most in the league, led in earned runs with 2.08 and if all this doesn't add up to the No. 1 pitcher in the league, then I suggest all those who think otherwise go home and some more arithmetic. Some people want blood.

The majority of National League hitters will tell you Tom Seaver is the best pitcher period. Now the Baseball Writers have said the same thing. So who's left?

I remember Joe Rudi, Oakland's superb leftfielder, making it a point to visit the Mets' dressing quarters 20 minutes after the A's won this last World Series. He was hesitant when he walked into the room because he didn't know any of the Mets personally. Finally, he spied the man he was looking for—Seaver, sitting glumly in front of his locker.

Joe Rudi bent down to speak with him. He stuck out his hand and said to Seaver: "It wasn't your fault what happened. You showed us something...all of us. You sure can pitch."

That's only one. When Dick Williams received the news of Seaver winning the Cy Young Award at his home in Riviera Beach, Fla., he could hardly be happier than had he finally gotten the okay he needs from Charlie Finley.

"I'm delighted he got it," said Williams. "He's everything they told us he was, and more. He's as good a pitcher as we've seen all year."

Tom Seaver is many things, but he's not insensitive. When he hears such drivel as "Seaver chokes up" and "Seaver never wins the big ones," he never overreacts, but the charges certainly bother him. Naturally they do.

Few people realize how hard he is on himself, how rigidly he disciplines himself.

"If I can give my team a consistent effort every time I go out there, I feel I'm doing my job," he says.

Buddy Harrelson, the Mets' shortstop, is Seaver's roommate. He takes nothing away from the Mets' Mike Marshall, San Francisco's only 20-game winner, or Cincinnati's Jack Billingham, who followed in the Cy Young balloting, but he can't see where there's any question about who's the best pitcher in the league.

"Go ask all the other managers in the league," says Harrelson. "Anybody who follows him (Seaver) regularly has to vote for him. He's certainly the most consistent pitcher in the league. I enjoy playing behind him. I know I won't have to play his position. I don't have to worry about charging the balls around the mound."

"Partial? Sure I am. I love the guy. I'd walk a mile for him on nails. I think as much of him as I do my own brother."

Considering that Tom Seaver has taken money regularly from Buddy Harrelson on the golf course ever since the end of the World Series, this perhaps has to rate as the greatest testimonial of all.

Bad Periods Cancel Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If hockey games were 20 minutes rather than the regulation 60, there'd be some disagreement which 20 should count.

"It was a game that we could have gotten bombed in," said Los Angeles Kings Coach Bob Pulford, whose club was bombarded by 18 shots and two goals in the first period.

"We didn't work that last period," said St. Louis Blues Coach Jean Guy Talbot, whose club was worked over for 13 shots and two goals in the third period. "We can't stop shooting the puck when we get two goals."

The bad periods canceled each other out. That made Juha Widing's second-period goal the difference and gave the Kings a 3-2 victory over the Blues in their National Hockey League game Tuesday night.

Elsewhere in the NHL, Toronto pounded Detroit 7-0 and the New York Rangers and Vancouver Canucks skated to a 3-3 tie.

In the World Hockey Association games, Houston routed Minnesota 6-1; Quebec downed Los Angeles 6-4 and Chicago dumped Winnipeg 4-1.

Leafs 7, Red Wings 0
The Toronto Maple Leafs backed goalie Ed Johnston's first shutout of the season with five second-period goals. Rookie Ian Turnbull scored the first NHL goal of his career at 14 seconds of the second period and that was all Johnston, who swept aside 26 shots, needed.

Rangers 3, Canucks 3, tie
Don Lever and Bobby Schumatz scored goals less than a minute apart early in the third period, rallying Vancouver into a 3-3 tie. The Rangers looked like they were about to end their four-game losing spin after Gene Carr's power play goal at 3:31 of the final period had given them a 3-1 edge. But Lever netted his goal at 4:33 and Schumatz scored 38 seconds later.

Aeros 6, Fighting Saints 1
Don Grierson and Murray Hall each scored a pair of goals, leading Houston to a 6-1 victory and pulling the Aeros into a second place tie with the Saints in the WHA's Western Division.

Nordiques 6, Sharks 4
Geannet Gilbert scored two goals, part of a five-goal outburst in the second period that enabled Quebec to overcome Los Angeles. Quebec trailed 3-0 when it started its assault at 4:42 of the second period on Serge Bernier's 20-foot shot that glanced off a Shark defender's stick and into the net.

Cougars 4, Jets 1
Joe Hardy scored his third and fourth goals of the season, pacing the Chicago Cougars to a 4-1 victory over the Winnipeg Jets.

Braves Take Lead In Atlantic Loop

"First place... how about it?" crowed Buffalo rookie Ernie DiGregorio. "They said it couldn't be done."

But the Braves did it Tuesday night, shading the Seattle Mariners 105-103 to move into first place in the National League East Division.

Atlanta has now won four straight games and leads its division by a half-game.

UCCC No. 1

STONE RIDGE
The good news arrived on the Ulster County Community College campus this morning. Coach George Vizvary's undefeated soccer team has been ranked No. 1 for the second straight week in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) Soccer Coaches Poll.

Ulster has a 12-0 record, with two games remaining on the 1973 slate.

Mercer County Community College of Trenton, N. J. (10-1) is in second place. Others in top ten — Meramec CC, St. Louis, Mo. (11-1); Essex CC (Baltimore) 9-9; Miami-Dade JC North, Miami, Fla. 7-1.

Also, Berkshire CC, Pittsfield, Mass., 10-0-1; SUNY at Morrisville, N. Y. (8-1-1); CC of Baltimore, Md. (7-1-1); Gloucester County CC, Sewell, N. J. (7-1-1); and SUNY at Alfred, N. Y. (9-2).

Maroons, Sawyers Drop Finales

FREEDOM PLAINS

The DCSL soccer season ended on a sour note for both Kingston and Saugerties High Schools Tuesday as the Maroons took a 6-1 beating from pennant winning Arlington, and the Sawyers were blanked by Webutuck, 3-0.

"I was really disappointed," said KHS coach John Hunter after Arlington had blasted his team. "We're the second best club in this league and we should have given them fits."

But KHS, which finished third behind Arlington and Spackenkill, didn't give the Admirals fits although it might have had it not been for a missed first period penalty kick which would have tied the score and perhaps turned things around.

The kick came at 12:00 of the opening session, just four and a half minutes after high scoring Skip Farrier had booted Arlington in the lead. After the Maroons failed to net the equalizer, a let down in itself, Farrier came back minutes later and scored again making it 2-0.

When Arlington added a third goal just 35 seconds into the second period on a play in which the Maroon fullbacks didn't listen to the directions called out by goalie Vinnie DeLuca, it was all but over. Hunter inserted several substitutes and Arlington scored two quickies, then found the range once more before Bill Davis tallied for Kingston at 4:04 of the fourth on a Mike Helmich assist.

The Admirals outshot Kingston 16-7. Corner kicks were even at two apiece. DeLuca made four saves to the Arlington goalie's three.

Hunter did have words of praise for Sonny Roncancio, who had to move to halfback due to an injury to Steve Kantor, and fullbacks Rich Griggs, and Helmich.

Kingston ended the league season with a 9-3-3 record. A Section One tournament bid is expected.

Saugerties completed its second year of competition with an improved 5-8-1 mark. A pair of goals in the first two minutes of the game prevented the Sawyers from going out as winners against Webutuck.

Coach Tony Elia, though not trying to make excuses for his team, did point out that the Sawyers needed nearly the entire first half to get used to Webutuck's slippery field and it cost them to the tune of those first two goals. After that, the game was virtually even.

Webutuck outshot Saugerties, 15-10, and had five corner kicks to the Sawyers' two.

Elia was pleased with the progress his team has made after only two seasons, but he quickly added that "we have a long way to go."

In other league games Tuesday, the last day of the season, Spackenkill was held to a 1-1 tie with Ketcham. Poughkeepsie turned back Rhinebeck, 5-2, and John Jay topped Oakwood.

Players of the Week

This week the Freeman salutes the following high school football players:

Offense
Matt King, Red Hook High School quarterback, who threw one touchdown pass and scored two himself as the Raiders blasted Rondout Valley, 32-3.

Defense
Scott Wilson, Saugerties High School lineman, who blocked two extra points to save the Sawyers' 13-12 triumph over Roosevelt. Wilson spearheaded a defense which held the Presidents to just 67 yards total offense.

TRADE FIGURES — The Phoenix Suns of the NBA Tuesday traded Connie Hawkins (R) to Los Angeles Lakers for forward Keith Erickson. (UPI)

Suns Trade Hawkins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Phoenix Suns had their differences with controversial Connie Hawkins and the Los Angeles Lakers were unable to come to terms with holdout Keith Erickson, so the two National Basketball association teams swapped problems.

Los Angeles hopes to gain added scoring punch at forward and Phoenix is looking to bolster an erratic defense.

To obtain Hawkins, 31, hampered by injuries this season, the Lakers Tuesday traded Erickson, 29, who never reported to the club this year because of a salary dispute, and their second choice in the 1974 NBA draft.

Hawkins has played four years in the NBA after two in the ABA.

With Phoenix Hawkins has salary, said to be $90,000 a year, he raised to $150,000. It was reported he spurned a Lakers offer of $105,000.

"I've had trouble sustaining concentration for really long periods of time," said Hawkins. "I'm going to try concentrating more and be more serious about basketball."

The 6-foot-8 Hawkins may lack some defensive skills but he has averaged 20.7 points a game at forward, where the Lakers have two rebounding specialists—Bill Bridges and Happy Hairston.

Erickson, in his eighth year, played previously with San Francisco and Chicago.

He remained a holdout, reportedly demanding that his

Jim Rioux Leads Coleman to Quadrangular Sweep

TIGHT FINISH—Jim Rioux (R) edges out teammate Kevin Post at the wire Tuesday to take individual honors in the third Coleman Quadrangular cross country meet. Coleman was an easy winner in the team scoring. (Freeman photo by Haines)

By IRA FUSEFELD

KINGSTON The way Coleman High School cross country coach Joe Keller explains it, Jim Rioux is an opportunist. That, in part, may explain why Rioux surprised teammate Kevin Post at the wire Tuesday to capture first place in Coleman's annual Quadrangular meet.

With Rioux setting a school record, and Post, Eric Schroeter, and Tom Nee following closely behind, the Statesmen had no trouble sweeping the team competition from challenging Kingston, Saugerties, and Rondout, which finished two-three-four in that order.

But it was Rioux's individual effort that was the surprise of afternoon for many in the excited gathering of students, staff, and family at the finish line near Hurley Ave.

Post, Coleman's top runner all season, appeared to be off to a wire-to-wire victory, a second better than Post's school record. Cabel holds the course record of 12:01. "It was my best race," Rioux said quietly. "It was not the first time Rioux had beaten Post (he did it in this year's Cobleskill and Marist Invitational), but it was the first time he'd done it at home and for a first place. Coleman, which has already won the UCL championship and is a favorite in Friday's Section Nine race, scored 17 points to Kingston's 63, Saugerties' 69, and Rondout's 85. Broken down into dual results, it was Coleman 16, Kingston 46; Coleman 15, Saugerties 46; Kingston 22, Rondout 34; Kingston 26, Saugerties 29; and Saugerties 23, Rondout 34. Jay Rogers led Kingston with a fifth place showing. Rondout's best was by Mickey Sparling, who came in sixth, and Sauger-ties was led by Tom Brand in tenth place. It was the second time a Coleman varsity team has beaten a Kingston team, the first coming in the 1971 Quadrangular. And although the crowd was smaller than in past years, it was loud and very happy with the results.

"He's a tremendous competitor," said Keller of Rioux. "He's also a strategic runner. He's like a cat, he doesn't let an opportunity get by."

The opportunity Tuesday was Post's apparent slowdown near the end, perhaps in anticipation of an easy first, perhaps because the crowd's noise prevented him from hearing footsteps from behind.

"I think he figured I've got this thing," Keller agreed. "I feel bad for him because it was his last race here and he really wanted it."

Rioux too believed that Post didn't see him coming. But nothing could take the shine away from Rioux's 12:18.5 clocking, half a second ahead of Post in this race, and half a second better than Post's school record. Cabel holds the course record of 12:01. "It was my best race," Rioux said quietly.

It was not the first time Rioux had beaten Post (he did it in this year's Cobleskill and Marist Invitational), but it was the first time he'd done it at home and for a first place.

Coleman, which has already won the UCL championship and is a favorite in Friday's Section Nine race, scored 17 points to Kingston's 63, Saugerties' 69, and Rondout's 85. Broken down into dual results,

Raceway Slates New Post Times

MONTICELLO Under its new four-day racing policy, Monticello Raceway will start its evening cards at 8 p.m. and all afternoon programs at 1:30 p.m., track president Leon Greenberg announced. The Mighty M will conduct racing on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday each week through the end of November. Day-night doubleheaders are scheduled Saturdays at 1:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Lasher's Resolution Would Halt Silt Flow

SAUGERTIES the Phoenicia Fish and Game Association and the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County. A resolution calling for the injunctive action to halt the flow of silt and mud through the Shandaken (portal) tunnel has been filed for action by the Ulster County Legislature at its Nov. 8 session by Saugerties Republican Legislator C. Freeman Lasher.

Lasher, chairman of the legislature's Conservation Committee, said the proposal to temporarily close the Shandaken Tunnel was initiated by inquiries. The twinbill cards for Saturdays will run for five weeks. The revamped winter racing schedule now in effect at the Mighty M extends through January 13, 1974.

"Our new schedule was arranged with the convenience of our patrons in mind," said Greenberg in making the announcement. "This will allow them to be on their way home by 11 p.m. most evenings and for our matinee cards, they can still enjoy a day at the races and be home in time for dinner."

Several outstanding

The sportsmen suggest in the proposed resolution that the New York City Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity be enjoined from discharging water into the Esopus Creek that is "polluted with mud and silt."

The sportsmen claim the mud and silt is detrimental to the trout's natural feeding ground and breeding place and has interrupted the spring breeding run of rainbow trout in recent years.

Hall of Famer Benny Borgmann Honored for 50 Years in Sports

KINGSTON They gave Benny Borgmann, a living professional basketball legend in Kingston, one of those "This Is Your Life" testimonial dinners at Wayne, N.J. last weekend. The event, sponsored by the Paterson Old Timers Association Hall of Fame Committee, celebrated Borgmann's 50 years as a professional athlete — in basketball and baseball.

Borgmann, who led the 1922 Kingston Colonials to the World's Professional Basketball Championship in a thrilling series with the Original Celtics, was honored for his 36 years in basketball as a player, coach and business manager and 50 years as a player, coach, manager and scout in baseball.

"That's 86 years and you're in your seventies," Carmine Billotti of the Associated Press once quizzed Borgmann. "I know," Benny responded, "but the seasons overlapped and I had an agreement not to report for baseball until the basketball season ended." Borgmann estimated that he played in more than 2,500 games of baseball and about 2,000 basketball games in his career. Borgmann, the finest sharpshooter of his day in pro basketball, was the star of the Kingston professional team assembled by the late Frank (Pop) Morgenweck of Egg Harbor, N.J. Morgenweck's teams, recruited largely in the New Jersey area, held forth in three different eras in Kingston. The Borgmann squad was easily his finest.

In the early 1920s, the Original Celtics were the unchallenged kings of pro basketball. While they never affiliated with a league, they were considered the best team in the game. This was the Celtics of Nat Holman, Johnny Lapchick, Johnny Beckman and Dutch Dehnert, all of whom followed Borgmann into the Professional Basketball Hall of Fame at Springfield, Mass.

The 1921-22 season was highly successful for Pop Morgenweck's team. In addition to Borgmann, Kingston had the Husta brothers, Carl (deceased) and Mickey, who still lives in Kingston, George Artus, Charlie and Artie Powers. A series

He remained with the Cardinal organization for 32 years before joining the Minnesota Twins in 1955. Five years later he switched to perform the same duties with the Seattle Pilots. A year ago, he signed on as a scout with the Oakland Athletics, a position he still holds.

Borgmann likes to boast that current baseball managers such as Walter Alston and Danny Burtaugh played for him when he was managing in the Cardinal farm system. Alston was a member of the 1938 Middle Atlantic League champions at Portsmouth, Va. George (Whitey) Kurowski and Ernie White, later Cardinal stars, played under Borgmann. Marty Marion, Fred Martin and Eddie Joost were other former stars who served with Borgmann.

Borgmann made a dazzling debut with Kingston in basketball, scoring 21 points which would be the equivalent of 42 today. It broke a New York State League record. He was equally brilliant with the

New Jersey State Boxing Commissioner, a sportswriter in the days when Benny was caving on the court, says, "Borgmann was known as the Red Grange of basketball. In addition to his brilliant shooting, he had speed to burn and was one of the best ball handlers of his time."

The years have treated Borgmann well. He still retains the same enthusiasm for sports that motivated his early careers in basketball and baseball. He remains as Abe Green once said, "a champion of champions."

Alpha Cement Takes Lead

SAUGERTIES Alpha Cement Company won a doubleheader, defeating Hertel Enterprises, 38-21, and Palenville's Pride, 7-6, to take over the SAA Touch Football League's B Division lead with a 4-4 record. Gunjah Warriors are in second place, a half game off the pace.

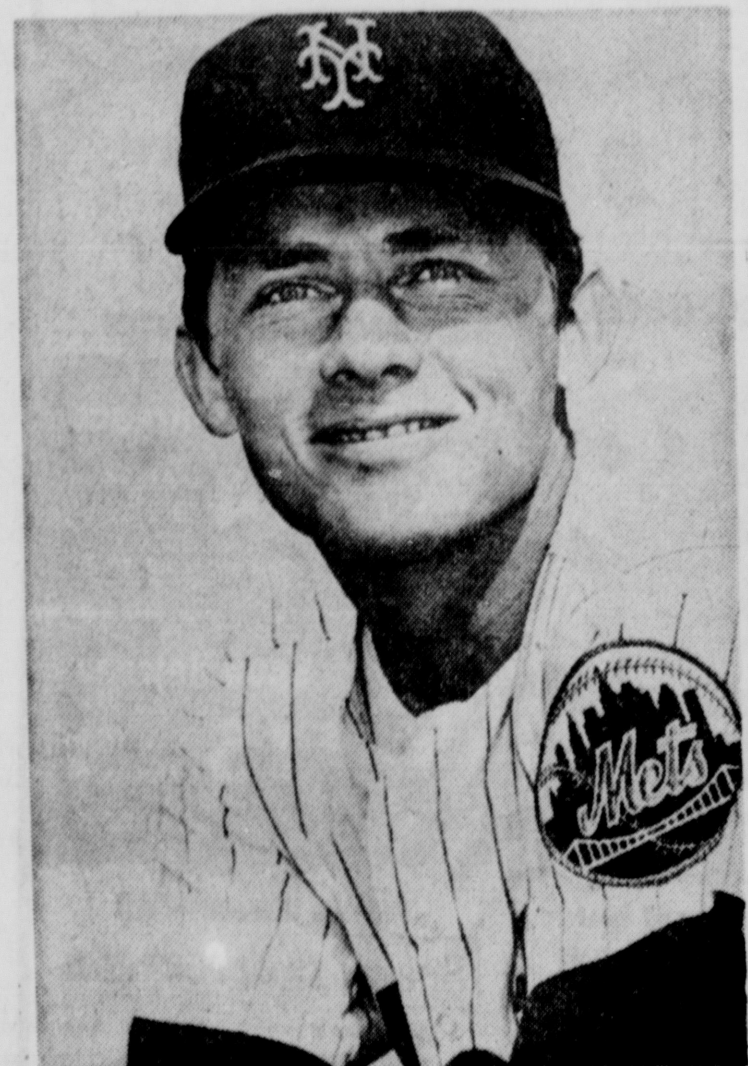

Six minutes into the final quarter, Les Hildebrandt hit Hal Johnson with a 22-yard scoring pass and got the extra point by the same route. Palenville scored on a Jay Lucas-Ed Gillespie aerial with only two seconds remaining but the extra point try failed.

Against Hertel's, Hildebrandt uncorked six TD passes, hitting Johnson three times (32, 10 and 27 yards). Craig Wrolsen (13 and 12) and Roger Steltz from 13 yards. Ray Every Hamilton passes accounted for the Hertel scores. He hit Reggie Hamilton from 28 and 59 yards and Bob Hamilton from 50 yards.

Hildebrandt's seven touchdown passes in the two games boosted his league-leading total to 17. Bill Noonan of Holy Cross has 8 and Every five. Craig Wrolsen of Alpha has caught most TD passes—eight. Hal Johnson has six.

Onteora Girls Score

KINGSTON Onteora High School girls varsity field hockey squad defeated Coleman High, 3-1, in an Ulster County Athletic League contest. Onteora now is 3-1-1 in the UCL and 5-2-2 overall with two games remaining.

Ann Schroeder scored two of the Onteora goals and Colleen Duffy had the other. Linda Williams and Sue Schlegel each had an assist. Onteora had 11 shots on goal and goalie Peggy Fitzsimmons was credited with three saves.

Co-captain Linda Faulkner anchored the OCS defense and was ably assisted by Ann Garrison, Tina Fisher, Jeanne May, Anita Shultis and Sandy Winnie. The defense kept the forward line supplied with the ball most of the game.

As avid Western story fans, we like to see the desperado queen of diamonds, West, get what is coming to him at the end of the story.

Most North-South pairs in the duplicate game reached six ruffs; fished against the jack notrump and went down one of trumps; pulled West's last since in all instances West trump while discarding a losing made a safe lead and there was club from his hand and claimed no way for declarer to collect the rest.

County Resident Challenges State Over Napanoch

By MATT SPIRENG

NAPANOCH
Stating that there is a "clear and present danger" to residents living in the vicinity of Eastern Correctional Facility in Napanoch, a former member of the State Commission of Correction petitioned the Ulster County Supreme Court to have him continue investigations at the prison facility and to report his findings to the court.

The petitioner, Phoenicia resident Burton Schoenbach, appeared "as a resident and taxpayer of the County of Ulster" before Supreme Court Justice John L. Larkin. Assistant State Attorney General Lawrence L. Doolittle presented arguments opposing Schoenbach's motion. Justice Larkin reserved decision.

Schoenbach, who was a member of the State Correction Commission until Sept. 1, said that during his term as a commissioner he visited Napanoch after hearing of problems there. A report on that visit by Schoenbach and a correction specialist and a senior inspector was presented to the Correction Commission, Schoenbach said. But the only attempts to correct "deep seated problems" and "an extremely tense" atmosphere at the prison, which are cited in the report, have been "cosmetic in nature," Schoenbach argued.

"There is an unbelievable mess in this institution," Schoenbach said.
Charging a "lack of accountability" on the part of the Correction Commission, Schoenbach said investigations are not being made which should be made, and effective steps are not being taken to improve the situation at the prison facility.

"I feel the prison system needs a push; they are not investigating themselves," Schoenbach said. "If no outside force is brought in to ameliorate the situation, it will degenerate even further," he continued.
While stating that he was not attempting to imply Schoenbach is wrong about the situation at Eastern Correctional Facility, Assistant Attorney General Doolittle opposed the motion on the grounds that Schoenbach, as a private citizen, has no standing to be granted powers which are those of the Correction Commission.

Doolittle also argued that the court was not the correct forum for Schoenbach to present his case to.
"Even assuming the situation (at the prison facility) exists, the relief (sought by Schoenbach) has to come from some other body (of government)," Doolittle said.
Doolittle also said that a new bill has promoted the independence of the Correction Commission from the State Department of Correction.

Before reserving decision in the case, Justice Larkin said that one of the questions posed by the motion is whether he would be infringing on other branches of government if he did rule in favor of Schoenbach. Justice Larkin did not indicate when he will hand down a ruling in the case.

Communications Grant Sought

KINGSTON
Ulster County has recently filed a grant application for $381,000 with the New York State Crime Control Planning Board to establish a coordinated police communications system for the county Sheriff's Department and other police agencies in the county, it was announced by Saugerties Legislator Clifford W. Snyder, chairman of the County Legislator's Sheriff's Committee.

The grant request will be 90 per cent funded through the Federal Safe Streets Program. The county's 10 per cent will include an in-kind share of 5 per cent and 5 per cent in cash. The county's share will include about $35,000 for equipment and another $15,000 for a relay site.

A more coordinated system proposed under the program will facilitate greater interdepartmental communications among police agencies in the county. The communications system design is based on a federally funded study prepared for the county by Systems Planning Associates Inc.

The funds requested by the county will cover the cost of new radio transmitting and receiving equipment for all law enforcement agencies in the county and also will include the cost of hiring a communications consultant who will assist the county in implementing the system.

The grant application is expected to be considered at the December meeting of the State Crime Control Planning Board. The State Board oversees the distribution of federal Safe Streets funds in the state.

According to Legislator Snyder, the Mid-Hudson Crime Control Planning Board, through its director Robert K.

Corliss, assisted the county in the study's recommendations. The timetable for implementation of the system includes the hiring of a communications consultant by the county to obtain grant funds to implement early 1974. The coordinated communications system can begin operations by late spring of 1974. This communications project has received strong endorsement from both county and local government officials as well as the sheriff and local police officials.

The Sheriff's Committee headed by Snyder, includes Majority Leader Ernest J. Gardner, R-Dist. 11; S. Robert Kelder and Lewis Hall, both R-Dist. 2; Melvin Mones, R and Larry Kithcart, D, both Kingston; Louis H. Bevier, R-Dist. 8 and Louis M. Klein, D-Dist. 7.

The graduating class was given a three-month period of instruction including human relations, on-the-job training, conflict reduction and other courses.

Starting corrections officers are paid $10,000 a year.

The state announced Tuesday that 18 officers had been graduated from its training center in Albany. The announcement said the men would be sent to Green Haven, Matteawan and the Eastern Correctional Facility at Napanoch.

The class size drew criticism from the union leader at Green Haven prison, Ronald La Duke, president of the local union said, 18 men "won't make a dent" in the shortage of guards.
"We're short about 80 men right now due to numerous programs started by the state," La Duke said in reference to Green Haven.
La Duke explained that each new rehabilitative training or educational program required additional guards. Each pro
